

15 GROUPS OF WOMEN GET BID TO COMMITTEE

Fifteen local organizations so far have been asked by Burgess C. A. Heiges to send representatives to a meeting February 20 at the fire engine house for the organization of a Woman's Advisory committee for the town.

The action followed a recommendation made by the Gettysburg chapter of the American Association of University Women several months ago that such a committee be organized in order that the women's groups may more readily assist in matters pertaining to the borough's welfare.

The committee will also provide a more effective means of interesting women's groups in local affairs because the representatives will be able to report back at the next meetings of their groups and thus expedite the dissemination of information concerning borough affairs, the Burgess said.

Will Organize
The group will organize at the session February 20 to be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening in the council chambers in the fire engine house.

Among the organizations asked to send delegates to the meeting are the YWCA, AAUW, Woman's club, Sororist club, Business and Professional Women, the Mothers' club of St. Francis Xavier school, Rebekahs, the Study club, American Legion Auxiliary, Order of the Eastern Star, National Council of Catholic Women, Council of Church Women, VFW Auxiliary, Women of the Moose and the Annie Danner club.

One of the first matters to be discussed by the committee will be the problem of establishment of a public rest room in the borough, the Burgess said.

Littlestown STATE GIVES OK ON JR.-SR. HIGH SCHOOL SYSTEM

A communication was received from the state Department of Public Instruction by the Littlestown Board of Education, it was revealed at their monthly meeting in the offices of the supervising principal on Tuesday evening stating that final approval has been given for the Junior-Senior high school set up. Application was made last year but the approval has been given on the school as it is now being operated.

Consolidation plans as suggested by the recent legislature were discussed by the board. It is possible to accommodate about 70 more pupils in the school without additional building facilities. The report of the principal, Prof. Paul E. King, revealed that a new "Victor Sound on Film" motion picture projector has been purchased for the grade school from funds secured through the presentation of an operetta. New uniforms have been purchased for the members of both the boys' and the girls' basketball teams, being paid for with athletic funds. Girls of the Home Economics classes visited the state Farm Show in Harrisburg on January 19 at which place members had displays of their handwork. Fourth place in child's dresses was won by Bernice Currens. Albert Stock was chosen to play in the All State Band on February 12 and 13 at Ellwood City, the principal said.

The secretary listed teachers' and janitors' salaries paid in the amount of $4,773.20 and miscellaneous bills, $718.95. Receipts for the month included $270.99 from taxes and $3,665.94 tuition from the pupils from the townships.

Bankert, Littlestown.

Dr. Saba presided at the meeting. The election followed the report of the nominating committee which was headed by George F. Eberhart.

New Cold Wave Is Coming From West

(By The Associated Press)
More freezing rain and some snow for the western portion of the state was the weather schedule for Pennsylvania today.

And to make the picture even more dismal was the weatherman's promise of a new cold wave moving in from the west.

Many of the state's highways were turned into veritable skating rinks last night as rain froze where it fell. Driving was extremely hazardous with a number of minor crashes reported by police.

A portion of the Lincoln highway was closed near Paoli until cinderings was completed.

Bus companies reported their schedules were disrupted with as much as an hour delay in some cases. The Frank Martz lines said several scheduled runs to New York from Philadelphia were cancelled because of highway conditions.

J. S. ECKENRODE DIES SUDDENLY

Death struck the Eckenrode family twice within two months when John S. Eckenrode, native of Gettysburg, died Wednesday in Warren, Ohio, of coronary thrombosis after a brief illness.

Within the past month Mr. Eckenrode and his brother, William, also of Warren, came here because of the critical illness of their sister, Sister Frances of St. Joseph's Central House, Emmitsburg. While here Mrs. William Eckenrode died suddenly in Warren.

The brothers returned to Ohio for the funeral and a short time later John Eckenrode was stricken with a severe cold which developed into pneumonia followed by coronary thrombosis.

Born in Gettysburg in 1880, a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Eckenrode, John was well known in this community having visited here a number of times. He is survived by his sister, a member of the Sisters of Charity, Emmitsburg, and the following brothers: Edward, Harrisburg; William, of Warren, Ohio; James, of Pittsburgh, and Leo, of West Chester.

Funeral services will be conducted in St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church here Saturday morning at 10 o'clock with a requiem high mass with burial in the Catholic cemetery. Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock will officiate. Friends may call at the Bender funeral home Friday evening.

Choir To Sing At Brotherhood Meeting

The Gettysburg college choir, under the direction of Parker B. Wagnild, will sing two selections at the Brotherhood meeting in the Majestic theatre Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The selections are: "So Soberly and Softly" by Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards and "In Heaven Above," a Norwegian folk song. Thomas Hunter will be the soloist. The public is invited.

ASSASSINATION OF LINCOLN IS RECOUNTED HERE

Lincoln's visit to Ford's theater in Washington on the night of April 14, 1865, and his assassination by the matinee idol, John Wilkes Booth, and the subsequent capture of Booth and others involved in the plot were graphically told and illustrated Wednesday night in the court room at the court house by Sutton Jett, chief of the Memorial and Historic Sites division of the National Capital Parks, Washington, D. C.

Approximately 100 persons attended the illustrated lecture. It was sponsored as a Lincoln's Birthday feature by the Lincoln Fellowship of Pennsylvania. Henry E. Luhrs, Shippensburg, president of the fellowship, presided, and introduced Mr. Jett.

Entitling his lecture "Lincoln's Last Days," Mr. Jett detailed the preparations made for Lincoln's visit to Ford's theater, where Tom Taylor's celebrated comedy "Our American Cousin," with Laura Keane, a distinguished actress in the leading role, was playing.

Breast Leg In Leap
The President and Mrs. Lincoln were accompanied to the theater by Miss Clara Harris and Major Henry R. Rathbone. The third act of the play, according to Mr. Jett, was drawing to a close when Booth entered the theater and made his way to the President's box. Slides were shown of the theater, its interior, the arrangement of the boxes, and the flags draped in front of them.

"As Major Rathbone sprang at the assassin after he had shot Lincoln, Booth dropped his single-shot Derringer and with his dagger stabbed Rathbone in the left arm, forcing him to relinquish his hold," Jett said. "As Booth leaped from the box, the spur of his right boot became entangled in the colors of the U. S. Treasury Guards, decorating the center of the box. Thrown off balance, Booth landed on the stage 11 1/2 feet below and fractured the large bone in his left leg above the ankle."

"Booth regained his feet and dashed for the alley in the rear of the theater, where he had left his horse, after shouting 'Sic Semper Tyrannis' (Ever Thus to Tyrants). "Booth fled into Maryland, aided by southern sympathizers, reached Garrett's farm, near Port Royal, Va. He was surrounded by federal troops in a barn and, refusing to surrender, the barn was set on fire. A Union soldier shot Booth, through the flames, after a companion had given himself up."

The speaker revealed that the

WILL OBSERVE DAY OF PRAYER

A service observing the World Day of Prayer will be held in the Elias Evangelical Lutheran church, Emmitsburg, Friday at 7:30 p.m. It will open with a special children's service, led by Miss Helen Martin. A worship service for all churches and all members of the community will follow. The general theme will be "The World at Prayer."

Robert Gillelan will be in charge of the adult service, and special readers have been selected, including Kathryn Keilholz, Mrs. Lester Wester, Nancy Beagle, Miss Edwards, Mrs. Walter Simpson and Mrs. A. W. McClellan. A recorded address will also be given. The organist will be Miss Ruth Shuff. Members of all church choirs are invited to sing with the Elias Lutheran choir.

Here And There News Collected At Random

Abraham Lincoln, a carpenter's son and 16th President of the United States, was born 139 years ago today. He was elected to the Presidency by the largest popular vote ever cast for President up to that time, 1,866,452. He received 511,295 more votes than were cast for Stephen Douglas.

The year 1863, two years before he was shot to death by John Wilkes Booth, is credited with being the year during which Lincoln contributed the three most important writings of his life, the final draft of the Emancipation Proclamation on January 1, his first annual Thanksgiving Proclamation on October 3 and his Gettysburg Address on November 19.

Lincoln expressed his personal pleasure in receiving the majority of votes cast in his home district in the Presidential election of 1860, a rare achievement in the history of our government. He was also the first American to have his portrait appear on U. S. coins, in 1909.

The late William H. "Boss" Tipton, battlefield photographer, told us prior to his death that he had a plate of a photograph made while Lincoln was delivering his Gettysburg Address, but that it was cracked and he feared handling it. A photo was made, presumably by Brady or one of his assistants.

We recommend for your reading the article "Birthdays Greetings" by Leighton C. Taylor, which appears in this edition. Mr. Taylor was asked by The Times to do a piece on Lincoln (Continued on page 3)

Birthday Greetings Our Two Greatest Americans They Loved Justice And Freedom

By LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

In contemplating the bloody rise and fall of dictators, ancient and modern, let us dwell for a little while upon the character of two great Americans, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, born in this month of February, and whose recurring anniversaries we are honored to celebrate.

These two immortals, because of prevailing circumstances, were clothed with unlimited power and, instead of being corrupted by it, they used it unselfishly and patriotically for the public good and the general welfare.

One played the leading role in founding, and the other in preserving, a Union, destined to become the greatest and most powerful Nation on earth, a Nation whose citizens are free and in complete control of their government. All of the world's dictators, from the drunken Alexander to the base egomaniacs who destroyed Germany and Italy, and the one who now conspires to control the world from Moscow, shrink to their true proportions of shame

SPEAKER SAYS JAPAN ACCEPTS "DEMOCRACY"

Declaring that Democracy has "made sweeping advances in Japan during the last two years," Miss Haru Matsui, speaker at the International club meeting at Brua Chapel Wednesday night, claimed that:

"Our young students are very enthusiastic about democracy and have formed groups all over Japan for advancing it." Such action she said, "provides a ray of hope in my native land that Democracy will be rooted deeply in the people. In our hearts we desire freedom."

Miss Matsui, daughter of a professor of the University of Tokyo, was educated at the Women's Division of that university and at George Washington and Columbia Universities in the United States. She plans to return to Japan next spring if peace treaties are completed by that time.

Some Fascists
Japan's great problem in becoming a truly democratic nation is the great number of "fascist-minded teachers and principals in Japanese schools," These, she said, combined with bad school facilities and lack of education constitute one of the greatest problems facing the nation.

Christian missionaries and American GI's are playing an important part in westernizing Japan, she declared.

"Your missionaries are giving us hope and spiritual guidance, and your soldiers are acquainting us with democratic ideals. Many problems remain to be solved. There are many anti-democratic parliament members. Women are still suppressed and down-trodden. But the people that were in darkness have seen a great light of freedom and democracy and under your guidance, we will march forward on the freedom highway to world cooperation, friendship and peace," she said.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Reaver and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Krichen attended the Pennsylvania-Atlantic Seaboard Hardware Association convention in Philadelphia Wednesday. Mr. Reaver and Mr. Krichen are managers of Zerling's hardware stores in Gettysburg and Littlestown respectively.

MRS. LEWARS IS MADE HONORARY MEMBER OF CLUB

Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars has accepted the invitation of the Woman's club of Gettysburg to become its first honorary life member, it was announced at the regular meeting of the club Wednesday afternoon at the YWCA building.

The honor was conferred upon Mrs. Lewars by the club "in consideration of her many achievements as an authoress and as an outstanding woman of our community, county and country."

It was announced that 2,307 bottles of milk have been served to local school children of the first and second grades in the daily milk program sponsored by the club. The program began operation January 7. The club and the state share the cost of the milk with each pupil paying 10 cents a week.

Mrs. Scharf Presides
An average of 128 pupils were served daily, Mrs. A. Harrison Barr, club welfare chairman, said as she presented her report on the project. Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, president of the club, presided at the meeting with about 50 members in attendance. Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson conducted the opening part of the program, speaking on Lincoln and Washington.

The program was in charge of the committee on education, radio and motion pictures, Mrs. L. C. Keefe, chairman. A symposium was conducted on the theme "It Couldn't Be Done." Mrs. Wilbur Baker and Mrs. Sydney Poppay were other members of the committee on arrangements.

Mrs. Mark K. Eckert and Jack Cessna were the speakers. Mrs. Eckert told of the development of the motion picture industry and Mr. Cessna spoke on frequency modulation and television in radio and demonstrated the use of the wire recording machine owned by the local high school.

Select Delegates
Eden Nicholas of the seminary sang "Valentine's Aria" from "Faust"; "None But the Lonely Heart," Tschakovsky; and "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind" by Roger Quilter. The encore was "You'll Never Walk Alone." He was accompanied by Mrs. S. F. Snyder.

Mrs. E. Donald Scott was appointed to represent the club on the woman's standing community committee, to be called together by Burgess C. A. Heiges.

Plans were announced for the convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs May 3, 4 and 5 at Harrisburg. All members (Please Turn to Page Two)

REDEDICATION SERVICE TO BE HELD BY LIONS

A special rededication ceremony will be held by the Emmitsburg Lions club at the meeting on February 23. Rededication week will be observed from February 22 to 28. It is the week during which they will by annual custom, review and renew Lions' code of patriotism and citizenship and repledge themselves to its faithful observance in their daily thought and act. At the meeting there will also be induction of new members. At the March 6 meeting, honoring post office employees, Postmaster Lewis Stoner will be the guest and will conduct an interview concerning the local post office.

A Valentine dance was held Friday evening by the P.T.A. of St. Joseph's high school for the students and alumnae of the school. It was under the supervision of Mrs. Henry Gerken, chairman, and her assistants, Mrs. Quinn Topper, Mrs. Clarence Sanders, Mrs. Clarence Wachter, Mrs. Herbert White, Mrs. Curtis Topper and Mrs. Andrew Jordan.

Features of the evening were the crowning of the King and Queen of Hearts, the king being Edward Houck, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Houck and the queen Miss Elizabeth Cool, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cool, of Fairfield. The king received as a gift a leather wallet donated by Houck's Clothing store, and the gift for the queen was a box of writing paper given by Crouse's Drug store. Burgess Thornton W. Rodgers officiated at the crowning.

An elimination dance took place after the crowning ceremonies and was won by Raymond Hobbs, of Fairfield, who was presented with a carton of cigarettes and partner, Mrs. Austin Joy, who received a box of candy. A prize for mothers present in the hall was won by Mrs. Clarence Sanders, who was given a box of candy. A Valentine cake, donated by Mrs. Guy A. Baker, was won in a cake walk by Mrs. Henry Gerken and Mrs. Curtis Topper. The king and queen's court of honor consisted of Mary Teresa Rosen-

Double Collision On Icy Highway

A truck, a school bus and a jeep were involved in a double collision this morning at 8:45 o'clock on the ice-covered Lincoln highway, five and a half miles east of here but no one was injured and damage did not exceed $25, according to state police who investigated.

A school bus operated by Donald L. Trostle, Gettysburg R. 2, for David Oyler of Gettysburg had stopped on the highway to pick up some pupils when a jeep operated by Ralph H. Bare, Lamont, Ky., stopped behind the bus. A Coca-Cola truck operated by John W. Dick, York, approaching back of the jeep, was unable to stop. The truck struck the jeep and shoved it against the rear of the bus.

FIREMEN WILL PLAY HOST TO LADIES MAR. 2

The Gettysburg Fire department's annual "Ladies Night" banquet will be held at the Moose home, York street, Tuesday evening, March 2, at 6:30 p. m., Raymond Menges, secretary of the department reported at the regular February meeting held Wednesday night in the engine house. Mervin I. Crouse presided in the absence of both President James B. Aumen and Vice President William G. Weaver. The banquet will be free to members of the department, ladies and other guests. A turkey dinner will be served.

The firemen received an invitation from the Hampden fire company of Reading to be their guests at the annual state firemen's convention in Reading October 5, 6 and 7. The convention will mark the 200th anniversary of the founding of Reading and the 175th anniversary of the Reading volunteer fire department. The invitation was accepted, providing that rooms can be obtained for the Gettysburg firemen.

Fire Marshal Resigns

An invitation from the Lebanon firemen to attend a celebration and parade in June was tabled. The firemen also tabled action on the proposed purchase of a nozzle for the extension ladder of the department's aerial truck. Secretary Menges reported that prices had been obtained, one being $343.10 for a nozzle which could be operated by ropes from the foot of the ladder. The resignation of Glenn Weishaar as fire marshal was reported. (Continued on Page Two)

Speaks On Inflation At Allentown Today

Inflation is one of the most difficult and important problems facing the United States, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association committee on anti-inflation, said today in an address at Allentown.

"The old laws of supply and demand prevail," Thomas told group three of the P.B.A., at its annual meeting here. "It is a matter of exercising common sense on the part of the banks to extend credit only for productive purposes. Loans that increase the supply of needed goods must be made and all others discouraged," Thomas said in a prepared address.

"While banks generally throughout the nation have been making loans principally for production purposes, it is essential that all bankers heed the warning and resolve to restrict loans to production needs," he said.

Former Countians Observe Anniversary

The Rev. and Mrs. Edward J. Croft, Mercersburg, observed their golden wedding anniversary last Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Croft served as a pastor at York Springs for several years. Their wedding took place February 9, 1898, in Chambersburg and was performed by the Rev. Office Wagner. They have three children, Mrs. Andrew Martin, York Springs; Lester E. Bedford, and Miss Ruth, at home.

The Rev. Mr. Croft has also served pastorates in Fulton, Franklin and Perry county.

Baish Funeral Is Moved To Saturday

Funeral services for Miss Blanche Baish, 71, formerly of Adams county, who died in Washington, D. C., Tuesday, have been postponed from Friday afternoon to Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and will be held at the Routsong-Dugan funeral home, Benderville, with burial in the Benderville cemetery.

A brother, Melvin E. Baish, whose home is in New Mexico, was en route here for the funeral. His plane was grounded in Kentucky, necessitating postponement of the funeral. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday night from 7 to 9 o'clock, instead of Thursday night.

FARM ADVISORY COUNCIL PLANS HARVEST LABOR

The Adams county Farm Labor Advisory council held its first meeting Wednesday evening at the local Pennsylvania State Employment Service Office here and began preliminary discussions to determine just how many farm laborers will be needed in the county during the coming harvest season—and how to get them.

Members of the council reached agreement on several points, that it will be necessary to import laborers from outside the normal area which serves the county "if we have anything resembling a good crop" and that the ability to secure outside workers will be complicated by the lack of housing facilities available for migrant laborers.

Organize April 14

Included in the council are John Peters, Gardners R. D., head of the fruit growers cooperative of the county; John Burgoon of the B. F. Shriver company; Glenn Slaybaugh, Biglerville R. D., manager of the Musselman orchards; Roy Heckenluber, Arendtsville poultryman; A. B. C. Williams, York Springs farmer; William M. Lott, Gardners R. D., fruit grower; J. Warren Martin, Fairfield, representing the Orntanna Canning company section; S. Luther Baltzley, Gettysburg R. 3, fruit grower and farmer; Harold Steiner, Flora Dale, manager of the Knoose farms, and M. T. Hartman, county farm agent.

April 14 was set tentatively as the date for the next meeting of the council. At that meeting the members hope to organize by naming a chairman and secretary, and to be able to give the answer, at least tentatively, to the questions of (Please Turn to Page Two)

GIVES WARNING ON TOWN WATER AT NEW OXFORD

Dr. Wilbur H. Miller, president of the New Oxford board of health, has asked residents of that community to boil water for at least 20 minutes before using.

Doctor Miller said today he made the request to all residents as a health measure until "we can be sure the water is properly chlorinated and safe for use."

He added that his notice to the people of the borough was given as a preventative warning. Doctor Miller said pressure has been low since Monday; Wednesday very little water reached second floors of houses in the town. The condition was only slightly improved this morning, he said.

Sees Fire Hazard

He also said he feared the present low water supply is a possible fire hazard.

The State Department of Health sent an officer to New Oxford Wednesday to investigate, Doctor Miller said. He added that tests would be made of the water by the State Health Department to determine whether it is pure.

New Oxford owns its own water system and, according to Doctor Miller, the plant which secures water from Conewago creek is overworked. That was confirmed by another borough official who said this morning that surveys made some time ago showed the plant to be pumping about one-third more than the capacity set for it many years ago when it was constructed.

Isaac Grogg, Gettysburg R. 4, was appointed borough engineer at the last meeting of the New Oxford council on February 2 with Donald Sieg as assistant. Grogg succeeds C. Allen Brashears.

Community Chest Meeting Delayed

The Community Chest meeting announced for next Monday evening at the YWCA has been postponed one week, it was announced today by Dr. W. E. Tilberg, temporary chairman of the group working for the formation of a Community Chest for Gettysburg by fall. The meeting will be held Monday, February 23, at 8 p. m.

A conflict in dates made the change necessary, it was explained. The report of the constitution committee is the principal item of business for the session.

Fractures Arm In Fall On Wednesday

Mrs. Charles Wolfe, 52, Littlestown R. 2, received treatment at the Warner hospital for a fracture of her left arm received in a fall Wednesday morning.

Robert Daughn, a student at Gettysburg college, was treated for lacerations of the right index and middle fingers sustained Wednesday evening while hammering a nameplate on a door.

FIRST REPORTS OF NEWCASTLE DISEASE HERE

Adams county farmers may as well resign themselves to their poultry flocks having Newcastle disease, Carl O. Dossin, extension poultry specialist indicated Wednesday afternoon at a meeting held by the Adams county Agricultural Extension Association at the court house for poultry raisers. At the same time he informed the group that up to the present there is very little, if anything, that can be done when the illness strikes the flocks.

The first reports of Newcastle disease in the county were presented at Wednesday's meeting when two of the growers reported that the sickness had hit their flocks.

"If your neighbor has it, you will have it too," Dossin said. He added that the disease which in Newcastle, England, where it was discovered, wiped out 90 per cent of the chickens, is not too serious in its present form and in most adult flocks in the United States.

Encourage Eating
In many adult flocks where the virus disease has struck mortality has not been higher than 10 per cent.

Principal thing to do when the disease hits adult chickens is to encourage them to eat, Dossin said. The disease begins among adult chickens with the appearance of a slight cold or respiratory disease. Then in two or three days egg production ends. During the earlier period chickens laying brown eggs may lay white ones, they may begin to lay eggs on the floor of hen house, chickens that lay white eggs may begin to lay brown ones, and soft shelled eggs will appear.

After production has stopped the length of time before the flock will come back into production depends on how long they were laying before the disease began, Dossin reported.

Sulfas Don't Help
"Pullets should be back to production in about 10 days, while chickens that started laying last year may not return to production for six to eight weeks." But the chickens make up for the non-productive period in most cases, he added.

Sulfas do no good in connection with the disease, but "if you would feel better by doing something use a mild spray. It probably won't help the chickens but it may make you feel better."

High Chick Mortality
Among baby chicks, the earlier the disease hits, the higher the mortality. If it strikes in the first week all of the chicks may die, Dossin said. However, the eggs of chickens that have the disease produce chicks that are immune for about 30 days from the illness, he added.

He urged farmers who think their flocks may have Newcastle sickness to bring the chicken to the state laboratory rather than to send possibly infected chickens by express. Sending by express, he pointed out, may bring the birds in contact with other chickens thus spreading the disease.

He urged poultrymen who may be considering holding their flocks over for another year, rather than start a new flock, to abandon the idea. Pullets, particularly among heavy breeds, lay on an average 50 eggs more during the first year than during the second, he pointed out, so by raising a new flock the grower gets more eggs per pound of feed.

ASSASSINATION

conspirators had planned to kidnap Lincoln and carry him across the Potomac and hold him as a hostage for the exchange of Confederate prisoners. The plan failed. "The assassination was an act of desperation," Jett said.

Scenes of the exterior and interior of the home of William Petersen, where Lincoln was taken from the theater, and where he died April 15, were also shown by Jett. One slide showed a poster offering rewards totaling $100,000 for the capture of Booth and other conspirators. William O. Seward, secretary of state, was stabbed the same night in his home.

"Belongs To Ages"
The President labored through the night, and at 7:22 a. m. the following morning the struggle for life was over. Secretary of War Stanton announced the death of the President with the words: "Now he belongs to the ages." Jett said. Jett described the funeral of Lincoln and showed views of the procession on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, and of the funeral car, and the final resting place in Springfield, Ill.

Booth, he said, was buried secretly in Washington and his body later removed to Baltimore. Four others in the plot were hanged in Washington July 7, and others were given jail sentences and pardoned in 1869 by President Johnson.

SLUMP PROFITS TO BE PROBED

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP) — E. T. Maynard of Chicago will be asked to tell congressional investigators how he turned the grain market slump into a $200,000-plus profit.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said yesterday Maynard made more than $200,000 in wheat, another $40,000 to $50,000 in cotton and an undetermined amount in oats.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), a member of the Senate appropriations sub-committee, told reporters: "I would advise you to keep in close touch with the committee next week." There were unconfirmed reports that the group would call Maynard in Monday.

Senator Young (R-N.D.), who is on the agriculture committee, said he thinks all of Maynard's operations "must be investigated."

Young said one thing he wants to know is whether Maynard, as a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, was required to put up the same one-third margin as other traders.

In Chicago, Maynard offered this statement as the key to his success in the market: "All you had to do to know prices were going down was to read the newspapers."

Anderson told the agriculture group that Maynard had "no inside information" and that "no corruption" was involved.

Sportsmen To Hold Shooting Match

Plans for the shooting match to be held by the Gettysburg Sportsmen's Association February 21 were completed Wednesday evening at a meeting of the committee in charge held at the home of President Ray Culp on Carlisle street.

The meet will be restricted to 12-gauge shotguns, the group decided, with live birds and still target shooting to be offered. The shoot will be held starting at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon of February 21 at the old Gettysburg Rod and Gun club property along Wainwright avenue.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Admissions to the Warner hospital included Mrs. Robert Merkle, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Victor M. Kelly, Emmitsburg; Harry W. Lower, Table Rock; Mrs. James Myers, New Oxford; and Judith Ann Tulley, Gettysburg R. 2. Mrs. George Thrush, Biglerville, R. 1, has been discharged.

Wedding

Finck-Brinkerhoff

Miss Emma Brinkerhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brinkerhoff, of York Springs, became the bride of Leroy Finck, son of Mrs. Lucy Finck, of York, in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride's great-uncle, Rev. C. H. Shull, Frederick, on Monday. The couple was attended by the groom's mother and Charles O. Brian, of York. The bride is employed in a dental factory, York, and the groom is a veteran of World War II.

DEATHS

Mrs. Luther A. Kohler
Mrs. Bessie M. Kohler, 61, wife of Luther A. Kohler, West King street, Littlestown, died at the Hanover hospital this morning at 9:03 o'clock. She had been in a patient at the hospital for two weeks.

She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eli Fissel, of Littlestown. Mrs. Kohler was a life-long member of St. Paul's Lutheran church and Sunday school, Littlestown.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Lewis Fox, at home; a granddaughter, Carol Ann Fox; two sisters, Mrs. T. S. Blocher, Littlestown, and Mrs. John Emmenheiser, Manchester, Pa.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Little funeral home, Littlestown, conducted by her pastor, the Rev. D. S. Kammerer. Interment in Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Jennie Thompson
Mrs. Jennie Lind Thompson, 70, LaCrosse, Wis., died at the Warner hospital Wednesday evening at 11:55 o'clock from the effects of a stroke.

Mrs. Thompson resided for the last six months with her sister, Mrs. John A. Davis, Gettysburg R. 5. She was admitted to the hospital a week ago.

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Davis; Mrs. Nellie Purvance, Linburn, Iowa; Mrs. Mertie Purvance, Gordon, Neb., and Mrs. E. L. Sheehy, Linden, Iowa, and two brothers, Fred McDowell, Burns, Wyoming, and Walter McDowell, Carpenter, Wyoming.

The body will be shipped to LaCrosse for services and interment.

Robert W. Slusser
Funeral services for Robert W. Slusser, 44, of 231 Cherry street, Columbia, who suffered a fatal heart attack at the York Camera club meeting Tuesday, will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Etzweiler funeral home, Columbia.

Rev. Warren L. Hackman, pastor of First Methodist church of Columbia, will officiate. A salesman for Sunshine Biscuit company, he was a member of the church and the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Gettysburg.

He leaves his widow, the former Erna Reese; a daughter, Sylvia M., at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Slusser, Table Rock, and a sister, Mrs. Thelma Gaylor, Columbia. Burial in the Mountville, Lancaster county, cemetery.

BULLETINS

Ulrichstein, Germany, Feb. 12 (AP) — A Danish air liner crashed and burned here today, killing an estimated 11 persons. Ten others climbed alive from the wreckage.

The plane was en route from Copenhagen to Switzerland by way of Frankfurt.

Alamosa, Colo., Feb. 12 (AP) — A massive snowslide thundered down on a tiny narrow gauge railroad train last night, tumbling three coaches down a mountain gorge but 14 persons aboard miraculously escaped death. The cars were hurled hundreds of feet.

New AAA Practice Is Announced Here

An additional Agricultural Adjustment Administration pasture improvement practice for 1948 was announced today by County Committeeman Roy A. Weaver.

The new practice is the preparation of a seed bed and the seeding of a clover pasture mixture. Each farmer in the county is receiving a copy of the new plan by mail from the county AAA office. Those who desire to engage in the seed bed project may call at the AAA office or notify the staff by telephone to add it to their other practices for this year.

Mr. Weaver also reminded farmers that Monday is the last day for filing applications for cash payments for 1947 practices.

SUPERIOR SYNTHETIC
New York, Feb. 12 (AP) — Eight automobile tire manufacturers, including the Lee Tire and Rubber Co., Conshohocken, Pa., announced a new synthetic rubber which its makers say is superior to the natural product for tire treads. The new synthetic rubber, known as Ultrapar, will go into production tomorrow at the Copolymer Corp. plant at Baton Rouge, La., and will be available in limited quantities within 60 days, the manufacturers said yesterday.

FARM ADVISORY

how many workers will be needed and what provisions can be made to house them.

Truman B. Thompson, state farm placement supervisor, told the group that the farm labor situation "will probably be tight" throughout Pennsylvania. He offered the services of the PSES to the council.

Unemployment Rises
An increase in employment in the state at the present time is due to purely seasonal conditions, Thompson said. Bad weather has caused layoffs in the construction industry and some plants have closed due to the gas shortage.

"But those laid off now will return to work as soon as weather permits and in addition hundreds of others will be employed in construction and other industries next summer. Farmers will be competing with road builders as well as industry and the construction trades. The state is also planning much road building this year. As a result the state will have a very tight labor market," Thompson said.

E. A. Crouse, manager of the local PSES office reported that Jacob Blank, an interviewer formerly of the Lancaster office who handled the farm labor details there, has been placed in charge of such work at the local PSES office. He also urged the farm labor committee to decide as soon as possible the need for outside help and the housing available for such help.

Need Details Early
"We have to notify other employment service offices to recruit the workers for us if we get them outside the county. And we will need to know what housing facilities are available so we can tell those we are urging to work on the county's farms. It takes time to recruit labor, particularly when you are competing with all other sections in a tight labor situation," Crouse said.

Thompson was asked by the council to discuss with the State Department of Public Instruction the possibility of permitting Adams county schools to close for a week or so at the peak of the harvest season, if the peak comes after school opens. "Usually we have the top need for labor from about the beginning of September until about the middle of the month, depending of course on weather and the crops," Slaybaugh told the group.

Peters pointed out that with the last two apple crops being short, the last several cherry crops less than normal and the last two peach crops in the county not too large "we can, if the situation runs true to form, probably expect larger crops this year."

FIREMEN WILL

and Gene Sickles was nominated and elected in his place. His name will be recommended to the borough council. The meeting approved the report of the auditors, submitted by E. Richard Eisenhart and George E. Burgner.

Equipment Foreman Sickles reported that the re-painting of the aerial truck was nearly completed. The delay in the painting he said was due to cold weather. "Old Man Winter turned the heating system at the engine house into a deep freeze unit," he reported.

Need More Boots
Purchase of new tops for fire extinguishers was authorized, and Sickles was directed to appear before Borough Council to request the purchase of 36 pairs of boots needed by the fire department.

George March, reporting on the Veteran Firemen's banquet held at the Blue Parrot Tea Room January 29, said 63 members attended and the total cost was $98.50. Bills for the banquet were approved and ordered paid. A letter of thanks was received from Paradise Protective for candy sent there by the local firemen.

The firemen adopted a resolution endorsing a proposal made at the last borough council meeting February 2 to have "no parking" on the north side of East Middle street, from Baltimore street to the Methodist church. Trucks would be allowed to stand for loading and unloading only, according to the plan.

The resignation of Clark Staley as a member of the fire department was accepted, and a one-year's leave of absence was granted to Walter Crouse. Raymond Dayhoff was elected a new member.

TO ADDRESS LUNCHEON

Winston Emerick, of Pittsburgh, president of the Pennsylvania State Association of Life Underwriters, will address the Gettysburg-Hanover association luncheon meeting at the Richard McAllister hotel, Hanover, next Wednesday. Lawrence W. Jackson, Harrisburg, executive secretary, will also attend the meeting.

Will's Proud of His Big Ears

Will Dudley's mighty proud of his big ears! Best crop of corn he's grown since '38. And Will, like so many other farmers, has plenty of reason to be proud of what he raises.

The farmer has always been a keystone in our economic life, and the key to our national well-being. But from where I sit, he's not only feeding America—but friends of America overseas—building good will for this country at a time when friendship for democracy is most important.

And farmers have willingly shouldered that responsibility. Will spends extra hours in his cornfield . . . comes home tired to a temperate glass of beer and early bed, to be ready for the next day's work.

From where I sit, America can be mighty grateful for her five million farmers . . . for their productivity, hard work, and temperate living—of which Will's moderate glass of beer is proof!

BULLETS HALT BUCKNELL BY 52-39 MARGIN

Another last period scoring spree saved the day for the Gettysburg college quintet Wednesday night as they soundly spanked the Bucknell Bison, 52-39, before a crowd of approximately 2,000 fans at Lewisburg to record their eighth win of the season.

Coach "Hen" Bream again operated on a two-team system and found it imperative to yank the all-Gettysburg five during the third round when the Bucknellians moved ahead by a lone point.

Harry Pure walked off with scoring honors for the night by racking up 11 points, although Gettysburg's scoring was fairly evenly divided. Bob March connected for 10 points for the locals while Tony Hoying picked up eight to lead the Bisons.

Walter "Bucky" Harris once again turned in a nice floor game, gaining many assists on plays underneath the hoop. George Boehner and Bill Ogden also played well defensively and were important factors in controlling the boards.

Bullets Take Lead

The game got off to a slow start, Boehner making Decsi at the foul line before March connected on a long set shot and Boehner tallied a side court stab to give the locals a 5-1 lead. A peep shot by Loe and a conversion by Mosney made it 5-4 before Fissel got a tap-in and March made a free throw. Swanner dropped in a push shot and Loe a foul before March dribbled in to score and Boehner hit from the side to give the Battlefields a 12-7 margin at the end of the first period.

Lewis and Pure picked up twin-points before Decsi and Hamre connected for Bucknell. Harris and Pure again hit for the locals and hiked the lead to 20-11 before Hamre netted another one-hander. Pure matched Decsi's peep with a follow-up on a rebound and Ogden added another on a push shot. Hoying layed up a beauty on a cut play and Decsi registered twice from the foul line to make it 24-19 at intermission.

Bisons Rally

The Bisons got going during the opening minutes of the third quarter as Hoying picked up a goal and a foul and Mosney connected on a set to tie it up at 24 all. Fidler added a charity toss to send the locals back in front and then Hoying sent the Bisons ahead with a follow-up. Pinky Fissel netted two quick taps in before Mosney got another set. Hoying converted a free throw and Loe landed a shot to give Bucknell a 31-29 lead. At this point the "B" squad returned to action with only Bob March of the all-Gettysburg five remaining in the contest. Pure's goal tied it up before Swanner made a foul to give them a 32-31 edge. Pure again came through on a set shot and March turned in a free throw to send the locals back into the lead 34-32. Boehner then converted a pair of charity tosses to make it 36-32 going into the final frame.

March and Harris took turns at dribbling in for layups before Stumbaugh got a pair of free tosses. Harris followed up with a goal before Hamre converted and Day netted a goal. Again Harris found the range with a one-handed stab. Boehner and Pure added free throws and March a peep. Boehner and Harris turned in two more conversions from the foul line before Swanner got a push shot from the Bucknellians. Fair netted a neat twist shot to round out the scoring.

Fresh Win Easily

In the preliminary game the Gettysburg frosh turned in their fifth straight victory by walloping the Bucknell yearlings 62-23. During the first play they held their hosts to

SPORTSMEN TO ASK LAW CHANGE

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Sportsmen from all parts of Pennsylvania headed for Harrisburg today to lay plans asking for drastic changes in state laws governing hunting and fishing.

The annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs opens here tomorrow with 51 resolutions, all affecting the State Fish and Game Commissions, up for consideration.

Increases in the present fees for fishing and hunting licenses were recommended by the sportsmen, with the added revenue to be used for the purchase and propagation of more game, and for improving the conditions of the state's fishing streams.

Out of state sportsmen are subject to criticism in resolutions affecting the future of the antlerless deer season. The northcentral division declared that "owing to the large number of illegal killing of antlered deer and many other depredations by out-of-state hunters during the past big game season," it was recommended that the federation seek legislation in 1949 to amend the game laws so that "in any future antlerless deer season, non-residents be barred from hunting antlerless deer."

Another resolution of interest to the state's fishermen was a recommendation that "the Fish Commission acquire control, either by agreement or condemnation, of a right of way on both sides of Spring Creek from Bellefonte to the Paradise."

Games Friday On Arendtville Court

The Biglerville high school boys will meet Newville in a basketball double-header on the Arendtville floor Friday evening.

Last week the Cannons won at Newville and are hoping to repeat Friday night.

MULES DEFEAT ST. JOE FIVE

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Muhleng continued on its victory rampage while Mansfield Teachers and Waynesburg suffered surprise upsets last night in Pennsylvania's college court warfare.

The Muhlenberg Mules squeaked a last period rally by the courtmen of St. Joseph's (Philadelphia) to rack up their 13th win in 15 starts, 65-55. Al Saemmer and Harry Donovan scored 18 and 14 points to lead the winners.

Mansfield was toppled from the unbeaten ranks among the state teachers colleges at the hands of Lock Haven, 65-46. The loss was the first for Mansfield in six starts against teacher teams this season.

Waynesburg was handed its third loss in 17 starts, the latest by Villanova, 65-41. Aided by the 16 points scored by Paul Arizen, Villanova took an early lead at the main line team's field house and led all the way.

Other scores: Ursinus 62, Pennsylvania Military college 56; Lebanon Valley 90, Juniata 62; Gettysburg 52, Bucknell 39; Penn State 42, Georgetown 40; Lafayette 63, Brooklyn Poly 34; Pittsburg 51, Allegheny 33; Clarion 58, Thiel 49; St. Vincent 70, Steubenville 54; Franklin and Marshall 71, Lehigh 57; Swarthmore 66, Haverford 41; West Chester 67; Millersville 53; Cornell 68, Pennsylvania 57; Delaware 65, Drexel 45; Bloomsburg 68, Elizabethtown 51; Youngstown 59, Washington & Jefferson 57; Moravian 60, Albright 53, and East Stroudsburg 59, Montclair Teachers (N. GHS CAGERS TO MEET WILDCATS AWAY FRIDAY

Back in the running for second half honors in the South Penn basketball league by virtue of their victory over Chambersburg here Tuesday evening, the Gettysburg high Maroons move to Mechanicsburg Friday evening for a game with the Wildcats.

Ever mindful of the surprise upset at the hands of Waynesboro last week, the Maroons are not taking the coming tilt lightly. Mechanicsburg has dropped 12 games in as many starts this year, nine of which were league tilts, but is likely to prove troublesome on its small court.

Coach George Forney's lads cannot afford to drop another league tilt if they hope to gain a possible playoff position. During the last half the Maroons must meet Hanover and Carlisle, both unbeaten in the second half, on their own courts. Shippensburg and Hershey will be met here to complete the campaign.

Foremost in the league program for Friday evening will be the contest between Hanover and Chambersburg on the latter's floor. Despite a 40-36 victory at Hanover, the Trojans are expected to get stiff opposition from the Nighthawks.

Carlisle will seek to extend its streak at Shippensburg while Hershey will battle Waynesboro on the Tornado court in other league games Friday night.

The Maroons return to their home court next Tuesday when Shippensburg will play here.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—It is rather startling to hear Branch Rickey, usually a pretty cagey gent, emit statements like: "It's an unhealthy situation in American sports when a boy can't take a better offer."

Rickey was referring to his $110,000 bid for Charley Conerly, who, he says, is "committed" to the Giants. . . . No one has yet explained just what that commitment is and Conerly once disclaimed knowledge of the Rickey offer. . . . Nevertheless Rickey for many years has been in the baseball business, where a kid can take the best offer available when he's just breaking into the low-class minor leagues but isn't even allowed to listen to offers once he has signed a contract.

Al Lang (the Honolulu machinist, not the No. 1 citizen of St. Petersburg, Fla.) has booked Roman Alvarez and Frankie Fernandez for an outdoor fight in Honolulu stadium, February 24. . . . Now that they've acquired Eddie Miller, the Phillies have at least five shortstops on their list—Miller, Ralph LaPointe, Jackie (540,000) Albright, Gran Hammer (up from Utica) and Grady Wilson (rescued via draft from the Cardinal chain). Fans are beginning to dream about trades that would make the Phils a first-division club. . . .

CHECK SIGNALS
Penn State's Bob Higgins (known as "Wrong Way Higgins" since he went to Clairton, Pa., for a banquet instead of Clarion) sent his regrets to a Pittsburgh affair recently when he was snowed out to find out the dinner wasn't scheduled until two weeks later. . . . Bob merely moaned: "Not only are my ulcers kicking up; now my mind's wandering."

CLEANING THE CUFF
Joe Louis plans to box 78 rounds in 26 days during his visit to England this spring. . . . Leighton, Pa., high school finally has ended a 44-game losing streak in basketball, stretching over three years. . . . When Tom Underwood, the celebrated editor and humorist of Lexington, Ky., was asked to predict the 1948 "Horse of the Year," he replied: "I'll take a ticket on Ben Jones."

Why not a parlay on Ben and Ted Atkinson?

HERGESHEIMER HITS 200 MARK

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Phil Hergesheimer today was a member of a select circle of four American Hockey league players to score 200 or more goals.

The 34-year-old captain of the Philadelphia Rockets, however, belittled his success even as an arena crowd last night roared its approval of his performance. The Rockets lost 5-4 to the Pittsburgh Hornets.

"It wasn't a good goal," Hergie declared after the puck skidded past Goalie Baz Bastien at 18:27 of the final period for his second goal of the game and No. 200 for his career. His first tally came earlier in the same period.

Hergesheimer, one of the busiest of the Rockets, wasn't "satisfied" with his 200th score because it "glanced off my skate." He was just as irritated that an earlier try had been ruled not good by the officials. In a game at Cleveland, the Springfield Indians gained a 2-2 tie with the Barons in the final second of play. The Buffalo Bisons took Harlingen, Tex., Feb. 12 (AP)—The $10,000 lower Rio Grande Valley Open started today with veterans of the tournament trail saying you can pick any one of a dozen players as favorite. Golf has become that close, they declare, and the 1948 record bears them out.

Six tournaments have been held this year and six different men have won them—Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum, E. J. Harrison, Bobby Locke, Skip Alexander and Sam Snead.

If anyone is to be established as the general favorite here it is Johnny Palmer, the rapidly rising young man from Badin, N. C.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 12 (AP)—Frank Wiswall of Loudonville, a New York director in the United States Trotting association since its inception nine years ago, won a fourth term early today in a hard-fought contest. Wiswall won 497 to 443 over Edgar J. Baker of Lake George.

Before the District 9 election meeting adjourned, Stanley B. Johnson, a representative of Baker, asked that all records and proxy votes be preserved. Johnson said the entire issue "unavoidably" would be taken to the state courts.

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Rudy York is expected to give Connie Mack his answer today on whether or not the veteran first sacker will play for the Philadelphia Athletics this season.

Mack, who unsuccessfully tried to obtain the services of Hank Greenberg a few days ago after Ferris Fain underwent a second knee operation, said in a telephone call from St. Petersburg, Fla., yesterday that York had promised to contact him today one way or the other.

State To Resume Cutting Of Timber

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania is planning to reopen its vast forest lands to timber cutting.

Milo F. Draemel, secretary of Forest and Waters, announced yesterday that bids have been asked for sale of an estimated 950,000 board feet merchantable timber on a 250-acre area of state forest land in Summit township, Potter county. "All timber sale contracts will stipulate that only mature merchantable timber, and all dead or deformed trees specifically designated and marked by a state Forest Officer in charge shall be removed, and that no stump of a tree cut under the contracts shall exceed a height more than 12 inches from the ground," Draemel said.

He added that cutting of trees will be barred near trails, roads or streams and that all precautions must be taken to prevent the starting of forest fires. Cutting of timber in state forests by private contractors had been halted for nearly a year.

and Washington, whose birthdays are observed this month. His article is an excellent lesson in patriotism and Americanism and should be read by every reader of The Times.

Although Lincoln was born of poor parents he did not die a poor man. He left an estate valued at $110,294.62. He was elected to public office eight times: five times to the Illinois legislature, once to Congress and twice to the Presidency. His only defeat in a public election was in 1832 when he sought a legislative seat. Ford's theatre, Washington, where Lincoln was shot, was never used as a playhouse after the assassination. Lincoln, his father, grandfather, great-grandfather and his great-great-grandfather were each born in a different state: Kentucky, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

PLOT AGAINST COSTA RICAN GOVERNMENT NIPPED BY COPS

By REGINALD L. WOOD

San Jose, Costa Rica, Feb. 12 (AP)—Troops and police nipped today a plot to overthrow Costa Rica's government and install former President Rafael Calderon Guardia.

The attempted coup began with violence last night over Sunday's Presidential elections. A policeman was killed and several persons were wounded in shooting which continued into the early morning.

Gangs raced through the streets. They wore the blue, yellow and red armbands of the Republicano Nacional and the red armbands of the Vanguardia Popular (Communist) party, both supporters of Calderon.

Calderon Concedes Election
Calderon trails by 10,000 votes in Sunday's election and has conceded the victory of publisher Otilio Ulate Blanco, of the Union Nacional party. However, Calderon has charged fraud. Ulate said yesterday he learned the Communists and some army men planned a coup, but outgoing President Teodoro Picado Michalski said he was confident such a move could be repelled.

A government source said the coup was plotted by the Communists, and that the Republicano Nacional was not involved. He said the first step was a vain attempt to seize a barracks. He added it probably failed because the plotters struck too soon.

Defense Minister Rene Picado, brother of the retiring President, agreed yesterday to support Ulate.

May Be New Attempt
Shots rang out frequently in the capital this morning. Half-tracks loaded with soldiers raced through the streets with sirens screaming. Mobile troops patrolled the business district. The Presidential guard said machinegun fire broke out within the Bella Vista police and Army barracks and that then the firing became general throughout the business district. People ducked into doorways or dropped to the sidewalks.

A short time after the shooting started, the opposition party's radio station broadcast an appeal for help, saying Calderonistas were besieging the station. Later the threat apparently was removed.

Informed quarters said it was entirely possible another attempt at a coup will be made. President Picado said the government was prepared to repulse any new attempt.

Infrequent Applause For Taft In Midwest

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 12 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) has found a hard battle approach to the Marshall plan and tax reduction the most responsive issues among Illinois and Indiana Republicans.

At least, supporters noted, his mention of those issues has drawn the largest share of infrequent applause at speeches delivered in Chicago, Bloomington, Ill., Gary, and Hammond, Ind.

Taft invaded today the nominally hostile territory of Minnesota. Here former Gov. Harold E. Stassen, who broke the unwritten rules by challenging Taft's Ohio backing for the Republican presidential nomination, is strongly entrenched.

In fact, Stassen is credited with such grass roots support in this state that Taft's backers say their friends will not raise their heads publicly until what they regard as an opportune time at the Philadelphia GOP convention.

RITES AT SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12 (AP)—Ceremonies in this shrine city commemorating the 139th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth were planned today at his tomb and at the site of his farewell address to citizens of Springfield. The Illinois section of the Abraham Lincoln Friendship train gathering food for Europe and Asia will leave from the Wabash station where Lincoln made a speech before departing for his inauguration as President in 1861.

Deadline Near On Information Returns

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—If you paid $500 or more to a doctor, lawyer or servant last year, there's a tax collector's deadline to meet Monday midnight.

It applies, too, if you paid $500 or more directly to a landlord—not through an agent—or to anyone else if the payment wasn't subject to the wage-withholding tax.

Persons making such payments must report them by Feb. 15. But Monday will be the final date this year because Feb. 15 falls on a Sunday.

The reports are called "information returns." They are used by the Internal Revenue Bureau as a check on the income tax returns of people who received such money. All information returns must be sent to the Internal Revenue Bureau's Processing Division at Kansas City, Missouri.

FAVOR FUND FOR RESEARCH IN OIL

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—The proposal of Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.) to have the Federal government provide $1,000,000 for petroleum and refining research had the promises support today of Senator Martin (R-Pa.).

Martin was away on a speaking tour but an aide said the Senator knew about the idea and will urge Senate approval. Senator Myers (D-Pa.) was out of the city and an aide said he did not wish to speculate on Myers' position.

Gavin, who comes from Oil City, was successful in having his proposal accepted as an amendment to a bill which would extend for three years a $30,000,000 program of research in how to get liquid fuels out of coal, shale and other minerals.

The amendment would permit the spending of $1,000,000 of this amount for research in getting oil out of wells and fields that have stopped producing normally, and in refining research.

Gavin told the house during debate it has been estimated there are 100,000,000,000 to 150,000,000,000 barrels of oil under the nation's earth which would be available to the petroleum-hungry world if economic means could be found to get it out.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Abraham Lincoln: On the anniversary of his birthday, a number of Gettysburg residents recounted their experiences with the Civil War President.

William H. Tipton, wartime photographer, will tell of Lincoln's memorable visit to Gettysburg in 1863, at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club.

Dean P. M. Bickle, who as a student at Gettysburg college, heard Lincoln speak in the National cemetery, also recalled that experience today.

In the Gettysburg Presbyterian church Sunday, William A. McIlhenny, Gettysburg Civil war veteran, told of shaking hands twice with Lincoln, once here and another time in Frederick.

Local Bakery Concern Moves to New Oxford: Steven Smith and Clair Overbaugh, who had conducted a bakery at the Lackner stand, Chambersburg street, for some time, have taken over the bake shop of M. S. Yohne, New Oxford.

Rotary Club Is Formed Tuesday at Littlestown: A Rotary club for Littlestown was launched at an enthusiastic meeting in the Catholic hall Tuesday evening. The new club is being sponsored by the Gettysburg Rotarians in connection with an expansion program of Rotary International. Eighteen members of the Gettysburg club attended the meeting. Included among the speakers were Arthur R. Jones, Edmund W. Thomas, S. G. Spangler and Rev. Earl G. Bowman.

Miss Ethel Houck Weds Frank Weigle: Miss Ethel M. Houck, foster daughter of W. S. Houck, Heidlersburg, and Frank Weigle, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Weigle, also of Heidlersburg, were united in marriage at Hagerstown February 1, by the Rev. J. S. Simon, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church.

Sells Fruit Farm: T. M. Day has sold his 70-acre fruit and potato farm, near Bendersville, to Clark L. Fetters, of Cashtown. The transfer was made by C. A. Heiges, Buford avenue.

7,783 Allotted to Mothers' Aid Work in County: Adams county has been allotted $7,783.40 to carry on the work of the Mothers' Assistance board this year, but as yet the Adams county commissioners have not matched the sum with county funds. The sum allotted Adams county this year is more than the 1927 allocation. Mrs. William Arch McClean, chairman of the Mothers' Assistance board, said.

Dollar Day on Saturday: Twenty-three merchants of Gettysburg offered a special sale of articles on Saturday in the first of the two Dollar Days conducted during the year.

Father and Son Banquet Friday: The Men's Brotherhood of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church held its first Father and Son banquet in the social rooms of the church Friday evening. The Boys' Pioneer group had been invited to attend the affair. Dr. A. R. Wentz was the speaker for the occasion.

Couple Get License: A marriage license was issued here on Saturday to Wilson Leroy Heller, Idaville, and Helen Leone Miller, Gardners.

Break Even on 4th Auto Show: Although attendance at the fourth annual Gettysburg automobile show which closed Saturday night was slightly under that of 1926, members of the Adams County Automobile Dealers' Association, which sponsored the exhibit said they expected to break even on expenses and receipts.

Mrs. Criswell received the $5 door prize for Saturday night.

Glee Club Broadcasts (Here and There): The Gettysburg college glee club centered some very favorable publicity throughout the east Thursday on college and community, through the program it broadcast from radio station WEAP, one of the strongest and most popular New

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SELF-RELIANCE

One of the great essays of the world is that one written by Emerson, which he called "Self-Reliance."

It should be separately printed and given as a tract to every school boy and girl in every land. Never in history has self-reliance been at so low an ebb in the world.

You know the phrase, "Let George Do It." Well, those George fellows are the only ones who are making movement in the world, and getting things done! I can understand the immediate response to that brief essay of the late Elbert Hubbard's "A Message to Garcia." Employers took it at once, and millions of copies were distributed throughout the world. It is rarely read today. The spirit of today is: Oh, let the other chap do it. I am too busy, and besides it's too much work. There isn't enough money in it, and who wants to go to all that trouble?

Edison, Ford, Joseph Pulitzer—and hosts of others—were poor boys in their youth, but they did not talk that way. They were self-reliant. They had ideas, and ideals. They had vision. At every step ahead they saw new worlds, and they explored them! And each has left a glow of light behind.

What so many of our youth today lack is self-confidence—in themselves and in the future. Never have there been so many fears, inside and outside of us! But self-reliance, and self-confidence can wipe them all out. We are agents unto ourselves. But, higher than this, we are the inheritors of a God spirit that every one of us should clearly recognize. It can be like a guiding star!

In a letter to Thurlow Weed, in reply to a compliment paid by Weed to Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address, Lincoln wrote: "Men are not flattered by being shown that there has been a difference of purpose between the Almighty and them. To deny it, however, in this case, is to deny that there is a God governing the world." It was this ever increasing confidence that there was a God guiding him, and the world, that gave to Lincoln his great wisdom during one of the most critical times in all human history.

What higher office can any of us ever hope to attain that can excel a complete mastery over one's own intellectual faculties? Self-reliance is the key!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Samuel Johnson."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
The Poet of the People
LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY
In times that may not come again,
Boyhood's happy, care-free way,
We looked on Lincoln's birthday then
As just another holiday.

There was a martyred President
The country loved long years ago,
But little more his birthday meant
Than this: a holiday we'd know.

I wonder, from those regions best
Should he behold us, as he may,
What tribute would please Lincoln best
From us who honor him today?

I'm sure, from freedom still at stake,
If he could speak to us, he'd ask
That from our honored dead we take
Increased devotion to their task.

Remembering Lincoln on this day,
Let us, the living, pledge again,
Highly resolve and dare to say
Our dead shall not have died in vain.

struggling to be free, rested with General Washington. Had he for a moment faltered because of his starving and ragged army, broken promises, ruptured communications, worthless money, treasonable intrigues, and an attitude of public defeatism, American Independence would have been lost, and the cause of free government by free men would have perished throughout the world.

"Mightiest Name"
No other man, save Lincoln, has been honored and revered by his countrymen as has Washington. Our National Capital bears his name; before his tomb Kings, Queens, and statesmen bow their heads, and the world's loftiest monument is erected to his memory. Gladstone, the great British statesman, pronounced him "the purest figure in all history," and said Emerson, "Washington was a great man, not because of his talents, but because of his character which made his talents trusted."

Lincoln, when asked for an estimate of Washington, declared: "Washington is the mightiest name of earth. On that name no eulogy is expected. It cannot be. To add brightness to the sun, or glory to the name of Washington is alike impossible. Let none attempt it. In solemn awe we pronounce the name, and in its naked deathless splendor leave it shining on."

"Potent Human Force"
Our only living ex-President, the Honorable Herbert Hoover, in his foreword to "Writings of Washington," compiled by the George Washington Bicentennial Commission, observes that "Washington was the most potent human and intellectual force in a firmament of American intellect."

In Webster's opinion, one of the most striking things ever said of Washington was, that "he changed mankind's ideas of political greatness."

To more clearly comprehend the statesmanship and vision of Washington we must study the Constitution said by Gladstone to be the "greatest work ever struck off at a given time by the mind and purpose of man."

To Washington must go the credit for initiating the movement in behalf of the Constitution. He presided over the Convention which drafted it, and he was the first of 29 members to sign it. When he did so, he said: "Should the states reject this excellent Constitution, the next one will be drawn in blood." He was persuaded to say this because the Colonists were then drifting toward anarchy, and anarchy always leads to bloodshed and dictatorship.

Followed Four Commands
In creating the Federal Government the American people laid down four commands, and these are clearly implicit in the Constitution they ordained. They are: (1) The Federal Government shall keep to its sphere, and the States to their proper spheres of government. (2) No official shall be entrusted with autocratic power. (3) Unrestrained power shall never be lodged anywhere, not in the President, not in the Congress, not even in a majority. (4) There shall be maintained an absolutely independent judiciary. That our First President clearly recognized these commands is revealed in his many utterances. In his Farewell Address he admonished his countrymen to be ever on guard against "the consolidation of the powers of all departments of the government into one," and he said further: "Let there be no change by usurpation, for usurpation is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed." He declared that "to preserve the reciprocal checks" provided for in the Constitution "must be as necessary as to institute them."

Washington never intended ours to be a one-man government.
Refused Third Term
His refusal of a third term was based on the principle that we should live under a government of laws and not of men, and that the well-being of the nation should not depend upon any one individual. During the Revolution Washington was secretly hailed by his brother officers as THE MAN WHO SHOULD BE KING. Some of these officers actually planned a mutiny by the army and a coup d'etat to thrust aside the feeble government under the Continental Congress and set up a monarchy with Washington on the American Throne. Certain of his officers made overtures to Washington to this effect, and because of such action they could have been executed as traitors. But General Washington knew that these men, at heart, were patriotic, having just endured great hardships under him in behalf of independence, and that their plan was more nonsensical than evil in intent. Therefore, he rebuked them in confidence.

Rebukes Colonel
To one Colonel Lewis Nicola, he wrote as follows:
"Newburgh, May 22, 1782.
Sir: With a mixture of great surprise and astonishment I have read with attention the sentiments you have submitted to my perusal. Be assured, Sir, no occurrence in the course of the War has given me more painful sensations than your information of their being such ideas existing in the Army as you have expressed, and I must view with abhorrence, and reprehend with severity. For the present the communication of them will rest in my own bosom unless some further agitation of the matter shall make a disclosure necessary.

I am much at a loss to conceive what part of my conduct could have given encouragement to an address which to me seems big with the greatest mischiefs that can befall my Country. If I am not deceived in the knowledge of myself, you could not have found a person to whom your schemes are more disagreeable; at the same time in justice to my own feelings I must add, that no man possesses a more sincere wish to see ample justice done to the Army than I do, and so far as my powers and influence in a constitutional way extend, they shall be employed to the utmost of my abilities to effect it, should there be any occasion. Let me conjure you then, if you have any regard for your Country, concern for yourself or posterity, or respect for me, to banish these thoughts from your mind, and never communicate, as from yourself, or any one else, a sentiment of the like nature. With esteem, I am, etc."

Of this incident Edwin Markham wrote:

"When fortune flung to him a crown, he flung
The bauble back and followed the People's dream.
He turned from all the tempters,
Stood firm above the perils of success—
Stood like Macdonald high above the clouds."

World Mourned Death

The news of Washington's death on December 14, 1799, as recorded in the Encyclopedia Britannica, "placed the entire United States in mourning, and the sentiment of the country permanently endorsed the famous words of Henry Lee, embodied in resolutions which John Marshall introduced in the National House of Representatives, that the Father of his Country was 'first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen.' When the intelligence of Washington's death reached Europe the British Channel Fleet and the Armies of Napoleon paid tribute to his memory; and many of the political and intellectual leaders of the time joined in according him a preeminent place among the heroes of history."

Eighty odd years after Washington had won our independence, and had bound the states together in what was hoped would be "A more perfect Union," the fate of the Nation again rested with one man, Abraham Lincoln. He could have faltered, he could have hesitated, he could, like Pontius Pilate, have washed his hands of the fiery ordeal, but he offered himself for the duty before him, even unto death. It remained for Abraham Lincoln to save the Union, and to die in its behalf after he had saved it.

Voice of Washington
Could it be that Lincoln heard the voice of Washington, heard him say:

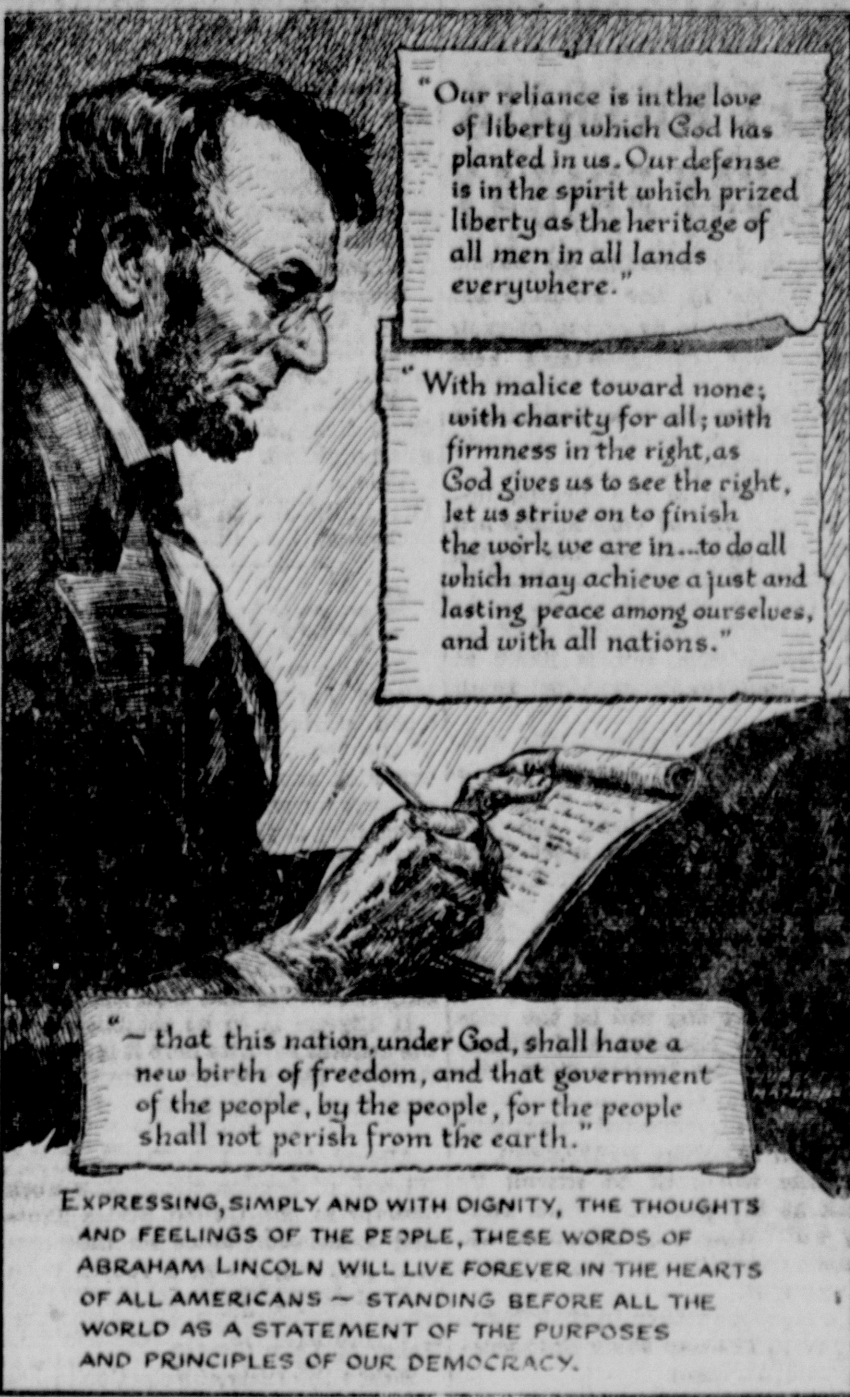

"The unity of government which constitutes you one people is also now dear to you. It is justly so, for it is the main pillar in the edifice of your real independence, the support of your tranquility at home, your peace abroad; of your safety, of your prosperity; of that very liberty which you so highly prize."

"You should cherish a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment to the Union; watching for its preservation with jealous anxiety; indignantly frowning upon the first dawning of every attempt to alienate any portion of our country from the rest. It is easy to foresee that this is the point in your political fortress against which the batteries of internal and external enemies will be most constantly and actively (though often covertly and insidiously) directed. Your Union is the main prop of your Liberty, and the love of one ought to endeavor to you the preservation of the other." (From Farewell Address).

Preserved Union
Alone, tortured by the thought of sending thousands of his countrymen to death on the battlefield, Lincoln wrestled with his problem: "Shall I accept war rather than let this Nation perish?" He made his choice, and the American Union, a government of the people, by the people, for the people, did not perish from the earth.

Frederick Douglas said of Lincoln: "While all about him were voices of doubt and fear, he did not doubt, he did not fear; he resolved that, at whatever cost, the Union should be preserved. He had registered an oath in Heaven to do just that thing, and then there was not power enough on this earth to make this honest backwoodsman, this broad-handed splitter of rails, break or violate that covenant with God."

On each recurring birthday of the Great Emancipator, the American people seem to realize, more and more, that here was the typical American; that the principles he personified, and the statesmanship he exhibited, have become vital to the perpetuity of this Republic. Lincoln, like Washington, needs no eulogy. His record is beyond the reach of praise. His character and achievements have taken him from his party and from his country, and have given him to the world as one of the most exalted figures of all the ages.

"The Typical American"

Henry W. Grady, the beloved son of the "new south," acclaimed Lincoln "The typical American who comprehended within himself all the strength and gentleness, all the majesty and grace of this Republic. He was the son of Puritan and Cavalier, for in his ardent nature were fused the virtues of both, and in the depths of his great soul the faults of both were lost."

Outstanding Statesman

We can most appropriately celebrate Lincoln's birthday, not by tributes to his memory, but by contemplating the qualities that made him great. Without a single dissenting voice, he is adjudged a statesman of the very first rank, one of the three or four commanding statesmen of the 19th Century.

I think we get one of the finest measures of Lincoln on the day he left Springfield, February 11, 1861 to journey to his own inauguration. He had every temptation to be vain-glorious. He had risen from obscurity to the most commanding position in the nation. Public feeling ran high, because two days earlier Jefferson Davis had been elected President of the Southern Confederacy. If Lincoln had been demagogic or even mildly vain, he would, as the cheers of his followers resounded in his ears, have boasted of what he would do to the new-born Confederacy once he became commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States. Just consider some of the boastful proclamations of present day European dictators, and then consider what Lincoln, the statesman, said to his friends and neighbors as they bared their heads before him at the Springfield station, amid the falling snow-flakes of that February day:

Faced Difficult Task
"My friends, no one not in my situation can appreciate the sadness of this parting. To this place and the kindness of you people, I owe everything. Here I have lived a quarter of a century. Here my children were born and one is buried. I leave you now, not knowing when or whether I may ever return. I have a task before me greater than that which rested upon Washington, but trusting in Him who can go with me and still be with you, let us hope that all will be well."

Lincoln promised nothing, but when he returned to his old home four and a quarter years later, with flags everywhere at half mast and the bells of the nation tolling a requiem, the world knew how well he had done his work. In the very capital of the Confederacy, and everywhere else in this land, from the lakes to the gulf, the old flag floated as Webster had prayed to behold it ever, "without a stripe erased or polluted, or a single star obscured."

"Your flag and my flag—
Oh, how much it holds;
Your heart and my heart
Secure within its folds.

"The one flag! The great flag!
The flag for me and you!
Glorified, all else beside,
The red and white and blue."

To the writer, the simple philosophy by which Lincoln lived, as expressed in his own words, was the secret of his success:

"I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to what light

MILLIONS SEE GANDHI'S ASHES PLACED IN RIVER

Allahabad, India, Feb. 12 (AP)—The mortal remains of Mohandas K. Gandhi, the beloved man who ranks almost as a saint in this land, were immersed in the waters of three sacred Hindu rivers here today.

Tens of thousands of persons witnessed the ceremony, which took place just after 2 p.m. At the confluence of the Ganges, Jumna and Saraswati rivers. Among the witnesses was the Prime Minister of India, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru.

The special train carrying Gandhi's ashes arrived at Allahabad station at 9 a.m. Nehru, who arrived in Allahabad by airplane yesterday, was at the station to greet the train of third-class coaches bearing the funeral urn.

Guard of Honor
A guard of honor escorted the urn to Triveni Sangham, confluence of the three rivers, for the final ceremony.

The urn was carried from the station and placed on a trailer. To the accompaniment of a booming salute of cannon shots—one for each year of Gandhi's 78—and the sounding of conch horns, the procession started.

A great hush fell over the crowd as the military escort moved out, preceding a squadron of military police.

A quarter of a mile from the station the procession passed the Anglican Cathedral of All-Saints, where the cortege paused briefly while the crowd before it sang Gandhi's favorite hymn "Lead, Kindly Light."

See Images Ashes
Wheeling slowly to the right, the procession went along Canning road, the main thoroughfare of Allahabad, on its way to Triveni Sangham. It passed between huge, silent crowds who lined the way to Triveni. The march from the station to the confluence of the rivers ended at 12:30 p.m.

Devadas, the fourth son of the assassinated Hindu spiritual leader, handed his father's remains to his elder brother Ramadas, and the latter placed the urn in the hands of the police. "In this temple, as in the hearts of the people for whom he saved the Union, the memory of Abraham Lincoln is enshrined forever."

He lived until he was the foremost man of all the world; and, with this triumph, came the end. The curtain dropped and at half mast was the flag of victory. The ter, bowing low, immersed the ashes in the Triveni Sangham—the sacred confluence of the Ganges, the Jumna and the Saraswati.

As he did so, bugles sounded and crowds which the radio broadcast estimated to number two to three million persons, shouted: "Mahatma Gandhi! Jai (victory to Mahatma Gandhi)!" The funeral entourage sang recitations from holy scriptures which were favorites of the slain man.

Nehru, whom Gandhi called his political heir, watched with a sorrowful expression as the mortal remains of his "spiritual father" disappeared beneath the waters.

After the immersion, the close relatives transferred to another boat for a final holy bath, thus symbolically severing what little was left of their worldly ties with the dead soul.

For miles along the river banks nothing was visible but the heads of people, the broadcast said.

Nehru, addressing the crowd in Hindustani, appealed to all to take a renewed pledge to adhere to the principles for which Gandhi lived and died.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF ADAMS COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, Harris vs. Harris, No. 141 August Term, 1947.

Charles G. Harris, Label in Divorce.

You are hereby notified that on January 21, 1948, I, Edward B. Bullett, was appointed as Master in Divorce in the above-entitled action by the Court of Common Pleas of Adams County, Pennsylvania, the grounds set forth in said action being that you by cruel and barbarous treatment endangered the life of said Libellant, the injured and innocent spouse. In pursuance of that appointment and the direction of the Court, I have fixed the eleventh day of March, 1948, at 10 o'clock A. M., Eastern Standard Time, at my office in the First National Bank Building, Center Square, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, as the time and place for hearing all and every person who may be named to me on the part of the Libellant or yourself, as Respondent, as witnesses in the said cause. At the time and place aforesaid, you may appear in person and/or with counsel and with such witnesses as you care to produce and you will be heard; or, alternatively, a decree may be entered against you.

Edward B. Bullett, Master in Divorce.

Sealed proposals will be received and publicly opened and read by the Supervisors of Tyrone Township, Adams County, at Aspers, Route 1, Pennsylvania, until 8 p. m. of March 5, 1948, for the following: 2,000 tons crushed stones, of sizes needed, to be delivered and spread on roads of said township, also including proposed P.O.B. quarry.

Proposal forms, Specifications, Form of Contract and Instructions to Bidders may be had at the home of, or by writing to Zeal Peters, Secretary, Board of Supervisors, Route 1, Aspers, Pennsylvania.

(Road Materials) or (Road Equipment) specified herein, shall meet the Standard Specifications of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

The successful bidder, when awarded the contract, shall furnish a bond with suitable, reasonable requirements, guaranteeing the work to be done, or delivery to be made with sufficient surety amounting to 50 per centum of the amount of the contract.

All proposals must be upon the form furnished by the undersigned.

The supervisors reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

ZEAL PETERS, Secretary of Board.

SITUATION IN CHINA NEARS DESPERATION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

One hesitates to use the loud pedal of pessimism, but it is necessary to record that China is in grave danger of collapse and even partial dismemberment.

Mind you, we are talking about a vast country which houses a quarter of the globe's population and theoretically ranks as one of the Big Five powers along with America, Russia, Britain and France. She has reached such a chaotic state economically, politically and militarily that she cannot save herself by her own resources alone. Only outside aid on a vast scale could turn the trick. Having said that you naturally think of Uncle Sam—and wonder.

The cold fact is that the country's economy has been blown to smithereens. It's so bad that the experts can't give an intelligible estimate of the disaster. People continue to die of starvation. The inflation is as crazy as the mad hatter.

This frightful economic disruption is in part a reflection of the political mess. Chiang has to struggle with powerful forces which make it impossible to establish an efficient government. War lords and other vested interests continue to put self before country, with disastrous results.

The position of the government as regards Manchuria is close to desperate, and to me that connotes near hopelessness. The Chinese Communists are in control of that great and rich country, and we can at least say that it will be a military marvel if Chiang can regain it. Worse yet, there is a heavy exodus from cities which are threatened by the Communists in Northern China. In fact, the government's position north of the Yangtze river through central China is bad generally.

Largely Up To China
If the Chinese Communists are able to consolidate their hold on Manchuria, what have you? Well, obviously you have a separate state.

HOLIDAY GIVES 'BREATH' TO SHAKY MARKET

By RICHARD FISKE

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—Plunging market prices took an enforced "breather" today after a week-long rampage. United States commodity and securities markets were closed in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

The first decisive break in the rising price level came on Feb. 4. Since then prices have nose-dived on the Commodity and Security exchanges, and to a lesser extent in wholesale food and raw material markets. Grains and cotton led the slide. It still was on yesterday, but appeared to be losing some of its violence.

Last Friday the consumer felt the first effects of the widening breaks. New retail food price cuts were on the fire last night.

Tuesday Was Worst
The retail price of flour and lard for one thing. But that's far from being the whole story.

Chiang's government has charged that Russia has been giving the Chinese Reds material help in their rebellion. Of course that charge has to be proved, but if it is true (and neutral observers generally accept it) Manchuria would become another satellite of Moscow. This would multiply the already vast influence of the Soviet Union in the Far East so that she might be the dominant power in that part of the world.

Recognition of China's great need is seen in the U. S. State Department's request to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for an increase in the fund for Chinese aid. The new estimate is for $570,000,000.

Naturally $570,000,000 more won't save China. As a matter of fact, the problem is so vast that nobody knows whether it can be solved by money. Some close observers point out that China has had great experience with adversity, and say that on this basis her position isn't hopeless. Be that as it may, China's salvation depends in major degree upon herself.

fell. Bacon and some cuts of beef were cheaper in many stores. Bread prices were down.

Reaction spread yesterday to securities markets around the world. Stocks tumbled in Manila, Copenhagen, Sydney and Toronto. There was a slump on the London market, but prices there recovered before the British exchange closed for the day.

There were temporary rallies in the prices of grain during the week, but they were short-lived.

The worst day of the week-long melee was Tuesday, when prices fell like ter pins. Stocks tumbled $1 to $5 a share Tuesday and sent the Associated Press average down to a new low since last June. Never before were so many issues traded on the New York stock exchange.

"The back of inflation has been broken," said A. W. Zelonek of New York, economic counselor and president of the International Statistical Bureau, a private organization. Many economists agreed.

Zelonek predicted that commodity prices would fall 20 to 25 per cent within nine months. Most economists were chary, however, with any predictions for the future.

PRODUCTION RECORD
Sunbury, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Construction of 500,000 radio receivers by the Westinghouse Home Radio Division last year set a new production record, says Division Manager P. M. Sloan. Production quotas for 1948 have been set 50 per cent higher, Sloan added. He said yesterday radio receivers built in 1947 had a factory billing of $22,500,000.

Ancient lake dwellers apparently fed domesticated cattle in part on fish.

Freighter Charged With Dumping Oil

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Invoking the Federal Pollution act of 1924 for the first time in this area, the government charged the Panamanian freighter, S.S. Andalusia, with dumping a large quantity of oil in the Delaware river last December.

The action was filed in U.S. District court here yesterday by Assistant U.S. Attorney Thomas J. Curran.

Conviction carries a fine of not less than $500 or more than $2,500. The Maritime said that the Andalusia now is at sea en route from Trinidad to Rio de Janeiro.

BUS RATES UP

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Passenger rates for buses and trolley cars in the Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton area will be boosted, effective Sunday, Feb. 15. Rate increases were granted yesterday by the Public Utility commission to the Lehigh Valley Transit Co., Lehigh

Organized Labor's Drive To Swing '48 Elections Hits Double Trouble Today

INDICTMENT OF CIO DETERRENT TO OTHER UNITS

By NORMAN WALKER
Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—Organized labor's drive to swing the 1948 elections ran into double trouble today.

The two big complications seemed to be: 1. The possible chilling effect of a grand jury indictment on union political spending; 2. Divided political loyalty within the ranks of both AFL and CIO.

The indictment was returned by a Federal grand jury here yesterday. It cited the CIO and its president, Philip Murray, under the section of the Taft-Hartley act which bans use of union money for political purposes.

Seek Early Ruling
A CIO strategist said privately the indictment is bound to discourage union from campaign spending. Even if the unions doubt the government can make the indictment stick, he said, "as a practical matter it will deter them."

The CIO contends the section of the law involved is unconstitutional. Its lawyers hope to get a Supreme court ruling before the high tribunal takes its summer recess in June.

Both the AFL and CIO have as their aim the defeat of Congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley act. But both are finding it hard to make their members stay hatched to a single line of political action. The union term for such differences of opinion is "factionalism."

Factionalism has hindered an early start for the AFL's "Labor League for Political Education," a counterpart of the CIO's Political Action Committee.

Labor Badly Split
Top AFL officials failed, at their recent executive council meeting in Miami, to agree on a league director. There is more turmoil about this than appears on the surface.

Bill Hutchison, head of the AFL Carpenters and a lifelong Republican, has declined to go along with the others. There are reports that Dan Tobin, one of the staunchest Democrats among the AFL leaders, may make his own separate political plans, too.

As for the CIO, a group of its unions representing about 1,250,000 of the CIO's claimed 6,000,000 members have indicated they may support Henry Wallace's third party, Murray and the rest of the CIO have come out against a third party this year.

A third group of unions representing more than 1,000,000 rail workers formed another political league opposed to Congressmen favoring the Taft-Hartley law. These plans haven't jelled, either.

H. S. Diamond, operator of the Humpty-Dumpty Diaper service, discovered yesterday that one of his truck drivers had left for Atlantic City, N. J., without his route book containing the address of 400 customers in that seashore resort.

Diamond telephoned police who in turn notified the bridge men, the truck driver was stopped as he reached the bridge and 400 Atlantic City babies received their diapers as scheduled.

Emmitsburg.—About 65 members and guests attended the covered dish social held in the Lutheran parish house recently. A menu of roast chicken was enjoyed. A program of games and music followed the dinner. The social was sponsored by the Woman's Bible class of Elias Lutheran church. Ice cream for the social was furnished by the men of the church.

Richard Florence, University of Maryland, College Park, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Romanus Florence.

Daniel Saffer, of Baltimore, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Saffer.

Stephen Franklin Kelly, son of Wilbur R. Kelly and Kathryn Carson Kelly, wife of Wilbur R. Kelly, was received by baptism, January 25, at Elias Lutheran church. Stephen Franklin was born Oct. 15, 1947.

A vesper service will be held each Sunday and Wednesday during Lent at 7:30 p. m. at Elias Lutheran church. The Lenten Self-Denial offering will be for Lutheran World Action.

Miss Grace Rowe, of Washington, spent the week-end in town with friends. She attended the funeral on Saturday of Mrs. Louisa Agnew.

TIMBERMEN GO BACK TO WORK

Farmington, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Return to work by 2,000 timbermen and sawmill workers in three states today marked the virtual end of a six-week-old strike.

Henry Holzapfel, president of the Tri-State Lumbermen's Association, said all but three coal companies had agreed to the demanded 20 per cent increase in the price of timber products.

The strike began January 3 when 11,000 union members in Western Pennsylvania, Northern West Virginia and two counties in Maryland demanded a 28 per cent pay raise.

The employers, members of the association, met the demands a week later. But they protested they could not afford the wage increase. Coal companies, which use the timber to shore up mine cuttings, would not pay a higher price for the timber.

The workers promptly declared they would stay on strike until the coal companies agreed to pay a 20 per cent price hike. Several of the companies did and 8,000 strikers returned to work January 26.

Would Add 17,751 Beds In Hospitals

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—The Pennsylvania committee on hospital facilities called a hearing today on a proposed state-wide hospital plan designed to add 17,751 beds in general hospitals in the commonwealth.

The plan was drafted by the committee under a Federal law providing for the allocation of more than $4,000,000 annually in grants for hospital expansion in Pennsylvania. Developed by the committee headed by Dr. Thomas S. Gates, of Philadelphia, and H. W. Prentiss, Jr., of Lancaster, the plan was outlined in a 139-page report. It would become effective only if the necessary funds are appropriated by Congress. Allocations will be on a strict priority basis.

The committee found that present general hospital facilities have 27,268 standard beds and 8,107 non-standard beds. Based on a ratio of up to 4.5 beds for every 1,000 persons, it reported a total of 45,019 are needed in Pennsylvania.

THIRD OF STATE ROAD FUNDS GO ON 'FARM-MART' ROADS IN 16 YRS.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—The State Highways Department spent one-third of all its available funds to improve "farm to market" roads in the past 16 years, Secretary Ray E. Smock said today.

The result has been hard surfaces for more than 21,000 miles of what had been dirt roads, he explained. The remaining 4,200 miles of dirt roads should be completed, he added, within six or seven years.

"No other state has accomplished such results," he said in an address prepared for delivery before the annual convention of the State Association of Township Supervisors.

"Farm to Market" Roads
The Commonwealth took over 20,000 miles of secondary roads in 1931. They previously had been the responsibility of local governmental

East Berlin

East Berlin—Miss Elizabeth Delone, R. 1, who with her foster children is spending the winter at their home in Hollywood, Fla., recently entertained a group of friends from Latimore township, who were units. Since then, another 5,000 miles have been taken into the state system.

In those years, Smock said, the Commonwealth spent $306,500,000 on "farm to market" roads. In comparison, it spent $373,500,000 for improvements and maintenance of main highways.

Discussing the magnitude of the state highway system, Smock asserted: "It represents 41 per cent of all roads and streets in Pennsylvania and is larger than the combined state highway systems of the 19 New England states, plus those of New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland."

Smock pledged that the state will spend at least $3,000,000 a year for improvement of the remaining 4,200 miles of dirt road in rural areas.

"These expenditures prove" he added, "the intention of the Duff administration to provide a well-balanced highway program."

on a trip south. Miss Delone is not expected to return to her farm in this area until some time during the summer.

The Rev. J. Monroe Danner, elder-in-charge of the Upper Cone-wago congregation Church of the Brethren, remains quite ill at the Hanover hospital where he recently underwent an operation for a gall-stone condition.

The pupils of Eisenhart's school-house, east of town, were tendered a wiener roast at the school on Friday by their teacher, Mrs. Frances R. Bechtel.

Richard K. Hartman, Spring Grove, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jennings B. Hartman who spend their summers at the "Jay-Bee Cottage" near here, left last week for the University of Florida, Miami, to enter law school.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Weaver and children, R. 2, spent a part of the past week in Hanover, their former home, because of the death on February 3 of Mr. Weaver's mother, Mrs. John J. Weaver, Hanover, who succumbed to a heart ailment.

Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron C. Spangler, was recently confined to his home for several days due to a throat infection.

The local high school's chapter,

Future Homemakers of America, conducted a sale of baked goods for the public at the high school on Friday.

The Rev. G. W. Harlacher, elder of the Bermudian Church of the Brethren, near here, reports that work on the new heating system being installed in his church is now completed.

Recently received as new member into the local Lions club have been: Elmer M. Gruver, Marlin L. Rook, Clark Newman and Warren Zimmerman, Ralph W. Boyer, Elmer G. Mummert and Hillard A. Leib.

Washington Hoover, who has been residing with his daughter, Mrs. Edwin Ruby, and family, observed his 94th birthday on February 9. Although Mr. Hoover was able to be about and in reasonably good health on his last birthday, within the year he has become bedfast and remains in a serious condition.

The Lutheran congregation of Holtzschwamm church, near town has chosen Mrs. Lester J. Bentzel and Mrs. Harry K. Stambaugh to serve as a flower committee during 1948.

George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Klindinst, has recovered from the recent illness that confined him to bed.

Word has been received by local relatives that Mr. and Mrs. Aaron M. Jacobs, Altoona, formerly of here, are spending a part of the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla., where Mrs. Jacobs' brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Roy St. Clair, reside. Mrs. Jacobs and Mrs. St. Clair are formerly the Misses Mae and Besse Grogg, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Grogg, late of this place.

William Anthony, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes L. Anthony, left Saturday for Philadelphia where he will take a course in anaesthesia at St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing. The young man, a graduate of the 1945 class of the local high school, has had experience as a medical aide at Duke general hospital, Durham, N. C. and later at the Warner hospital.

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 11 (AP)—The Lehigh Valley railroad's fast freight SM-2 running east from Buffalo to Jersey City was derailed at Penn Haven junction at 12:55 a.m. Tuesday when a flange on a wheel of the 27th car broke. Four cars of the 73-car train were piled up. One scraped the tower at the junction of the Hazleton division with the main line. None of the crew was injured.

REDS STARTED PRESENT COLD WAR IN 1919

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

We shouldn't let the charges and counter-charges about who started World War II get us off the beam.

The vital thing for us to know is who began the "cold-war" in which we now are engaged, and what it means.

After all, it's the present and the future in which we have to live. Naturally a knowledge of history is vital to help us interpret the present and prepare for the future. For that reason it is well that we study the current exchange between Washington and Moscow about the antecedents of the Second World War. We won't go into details here but a few highlights on thumbnail are these:

The U. S. State Department has published captured Nazi documents purporting to show that Germany and Russia agreed to divide Poland between them, and that they also agreed Britain and America should be kept out of Europe, Asia and Africa. Moscow retorts that the United States, Britain and France provided Hitler with the strength to launch the war—that it was done with "a golden rain of American dollars" and by French and British diplomacy.

Rain of Dollars New

Well, there can't be much argument about the partition of Poland, for we saw that actually carried out as the war began. And Nazi foreign minister Von Ribbentrop testified during his war crimes trial at Nuernberg that Russia was Germany's willing partner in this division.

The Bolshevik allegation about "a golden rain of American dollars" is new to this correspondent, and needs a lot of substantiation, which Moscow promises to give. As for the charge about British and French diplomacy, far be it from me to question the truth of that, having followed British Prime Minister Chamberlain to Berchtesgaden and Godesberg where he tried to appease the Nazi beast, and having attended the fateful Munich conference where little Czechoslovakia's head was handed to Hitler on a platter.

World Domination

However, I'm much more concerned with our current "cold-war" and the danger that it may get "hot." Who started that, and why? This column has answered those questions before but they are so

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—The sacrament of baptism was administered on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church to the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Ash, who received the name of John Joseph. The sponsors were Mar-vital that we venture to repeat. It's dangerous for us not to know the facts, and here they are:

This "cold-war" was started by the Soviet Union back in 1919 when the Comintern, or Third International, was formed. This was the general staff to supervise a world revolution for the establishment of Communism in all countries.

Out of this has grown the "cold-war" which now threatens eastern Europe and the rest of the world.

Mountains of arguments will be developed about how the world war started. There is no argument about the "cold-war" or its threat to free nations.

garet and Eugene Bouey. Also baptized were Audrey Estelle Warthen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Warthen, sponsors, Rosemary Sanders and George Warthen; Mildred Jean Harner, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harner, Gettysburg road, sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Peters of Baltimore. The Rev. Gerald Curran, assistant pastor, officiated at the baptisms.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Davis, of Towson, Md., announce the birth of a daughter on February 3. The child was given the name of Jean Evelyn. Mrs. Davis is the former Helen Bosson, of Baltimore, who has many friends in Emmitsburg having spent her summer vacations at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Sanders.

A birthday party was held on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Keepers and family, of near Taneytown, in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Charles Keepers, East Main street, Emmitsburg, father of Louis Keepers. Those present from Emmitsburg were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keepers, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sanders and daughter, Rosemary, and Bernadette Arnold, of Taneytown, who was a week-end guest at the Sanders home, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Orndorff, Leo Keepers and Vivian Warthen. Howard Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarence Sanders, who enlisted in the Ordnance corps and who has been at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds for about six months, will leave Friday for the South Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hall and son, Randall, and daughter, Joan, and Myrl Baker, all of Baltimore, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Peters, of Baltimore, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harner and Emmanuel Kump.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle attended the card party in Taneytown recently. The door prize, a basket of fruit, was won by Mrs. Boyle.

Mrs. Dwen Adelsberger spent several days last week in Baltimore visiting relatives.

Mrs. Helena Pfeiffer and daughter, Ann, spent from Friday until Sunday at the home of Mrs. Emma Myers.

Mrs. Etella Adelsberger and brother, Raphael Topper, of Philadelphia, returned to their home on Sunday after attending the funeral of their sister, Janet T. Topper.

The term, Kangaroo Court, was brought to America by Australian "forty-niners" during California's great gold rush.

In the days of King Alfred, much of England was bog or shallow swamp.

Temperatures of 137 degrees Fahrenheit have been recorded in Death Valley, Calif.

RUSSIA SAYS ALLIES BACKED HITLER VS. REDS

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Feb. 12 (AP)—Russia says Great Britain and France before the war encouraged Adolf Hitler to turn the German army against the Soviet Union.
She charges that they let Germany take over Czechoslovakia and, in the pact of Munich and others, entered into non-aggression agreements with Germany's Fuehrer.
These accusations were made in a statement issued last night by the Soviet Information Bureau. In support of them, the bureau cited German Foreign Office documents for 1937 and 1938 which it said the Red Army had captured.
No Comment
The statement was Russia's second in reply to publication of papers in Nazi-Soviet relations by the United States. This one said little about the U. S.
The U. S. State Department published captured documents January 2 which said Hitler and Stalin plotted to split up Poland, dominate the Balkans and shut the Western Powers out of Europe altogether.
In Washington last night, no comment was forthcoming from the department on the latest Soviet statement.
(The British foreign office and the French Foreign Ministry did not comment, either. In London, a foreign-office spokesman said Britain's official reply, if any, would be withheld pending a check on how the statement was documented.)
Charge "Deliberate Lie"
The Soviet communique said British-French policy before the war was aimed at isolating the U.S.S.R. and directing Hitlerite aggression towards the east against the Soviet

New Oxford
New Oxford—A Valentine's "Leap Year" dance is being prepared by the students of the local high school to take place Friday evening at the school auditorium. The dance is open to the public.
H. B. Flaherty has returned home after about a week spent as a medical patient at the Hanover hospital. Mr. Flaherty was removed there when complications developed after a severe cold.
Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hemminger have been entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Charles Bothwell, Union, using Hendrich as a tool for their own ends.
It declared that Hitler's annexation of Austria March 12, 1938, met no resistance on the part of Britain and France and that in the face of Czechoslovakia's appeal for help against Germany under a mutual assistance pact, "the Anglo-French rulers remained implacable."
Russia alone, the communique said, raised a voice of warning at the time of Anschluss and championed Czechoslovak independence. It remarked that Britain and France "hypocritically declared they did not know whether or not the Soviet Union would live up to its pledges" to Czechoslovakia. This it called a "deliberate lie."

Jr., Phoenixville.
The J. Randolph Staub family recently occupied their new home after having resided with Mrs. Staub's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Billman, and family.
Laverne Brendle, who has been a partner at the Brendle and Spangler food market in Hanover for the past year, is now associated with his brother, Richard J. Brendle, in his local produce business.
Mrs. Edna Bittinger entertained the local 500 club at her home on Tuesday evening.
The local firemen met recently at their fire engine house for the regular meeting.
The Missionary society of the Pine Lutheran church, New Chester, met during the week at the home of their pastor, the Rev. Elmer Drumm.
Edward Sheely has been again confined to his home by illness.
Mrs. Jennie Feiser was hostess on Tuesday evening to the Missionary society of the First Lutheran church, Mrs. George E. Sheffer, wife of the pastor assisted the hostess with the presentation of the lesson study.
Gerald L. Orndorff, teacher of the Pine Run school, near here, reports that these pupils have had a record of perfect attendance for the past month: Richard Diehl, Janice Topper, Ruthetta Staub, Wayne Stock, Richard Walker, Ruth Brod-beck, Elizabeth Hoff, Robert Diehl, Peggy Haar, Priscilla Jane Yohe, Gerald Staub, Eugene Staub, Joyce Runk, Robert Brodbeck and Sylvia Ann Yohe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryland Robinson and daughters, Rebecca and Roberta, have moved to their new home near town.
Some students believe copper rings were among the first forms of money.

MARKETING with Marjorie

There are plenty of occasions for making merry in February... and plenty of inexpensive ways to perk up parties. Here are a few that prove you don't need to spend a king's ransom to entertain royally!

HAVE A HEART!
A heart-shaped mold of tangy tomato-aspic makes a Valentine's Day salad guests will take to their hearts. So soften 1 envelope of plain gelatin in 2 tbsps. cold water and 2 tbsps. vinegar. Combine 2 cups of A&P's IONA TOMATOJUICE, 1 tsp. pepper, 1 bay leaf, 1 sliced onion, 1 tsp. sugar, 1 tsp. salt and a few celery leaves, and simmer 15 minutes. Strain over gelatin; stir till dissolved; pour into mold and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce, and, using pastry bag and tube, decorate with a frilly border of softened cream cheese. 4 servings.

MUFFIN MAGIC
Want to turn plain muffins into taste-thrilling, eye-filling party fare? Half fill greased muffin tins with your favorite muffin batter or prepared mix; and before baking, top with 3 tbsps. of luscious ANN PAGE ORANGE MARMALADE from the A&P. It will give your muffins an attractive glaze and a taste guests will praise!

TEA-TIME TRICK
To pretty-up your tea tray for a party, take a tint (any shade of vegetable coloring, that is) and apply it to loaf sugar like this: Place a few drops in 2 tbsps. cold water, and drop small amount of colored water along one side and down one end of each sugar cube. When dry, serve with OUR OWN, NECTAR or MAYFAIR TEAS... the famous Flavor-Tested teas sold only by A&P... and give guests a treat that's both flavorful and colorful!

TREAT-BEARING TREE
Ever hear of a donut tree? It's grand to have on a party table... especially when it bears light, tender JANE PARKER DONUTS! To make one, insert several knitting needles in the holes of a flower holder, and ring them with lots of JANE PARKER DONUTS. (You can buy a tree-full for a trifle at your A&P!) Mighty fetching... and saves you fetching the "accords" everyone's sure to want.

U.S. IRON ORE SUPPLY GOING TO RUN SHORT

By BRUCE DIOSAT

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—American steel makers are beginning to think they are running out of iron ore. The country is running low on some of the materials it needs most. Secretary of Interior Krug issued another warning last week in his annual report. And the matter of iron babbled up in Congress during debate on the St. Lawrence seaway.

Iron means steel, and steel is basic in our complex industrial life. It's the substance that goes into our bridges, skyscrapers, houses, automobiles, tractors, ships and trains. All Krug said about iron ore was this: "Supplies of high-grade iron ore are limited." He didn't say how limited. But others have.

Summarizing the views of industry and government experts, the commerce department says our best reserves, around Lake Superior, may run out in 20 years. That region produces 80 per cent of all the iron ore mined annually in this country. And half the nation's output comes from one place—a great, yawning pit called the Mesabi Range, in Minnesota.

But while the war was still on a steel man said: "This is the last world war that will be fought off the Mesabi."

Looking Outside U. S. From 1940 to 1945, the industry drew on Mesabi ore at three times the rate of the 1930's. Now that peace has come, the withdrawals aren't much lighter. Last year 77-

000,000 tons were mined around Lake Superior, compared with 79,000,000 tons in 1944.

It's risky to predict when good ore actually will be gone. A depression might reduce its use considerably. On the other hand, there is clamor for more than less steel output.

Government officials say the big companies have men hunting for new ore. But: they are not looking in the United States. They are looking in South America and elsewhere.

Taconite Available

Does that mean we must rely on foreign sources when our own good ores have vanished? No. There's another approach. Around Lake Superior are some 63,000,000,000 tons of submarginal ore called taconite. It's a hard rock with 25 to 35 per cent iron content, against nearly 50 per cent in present ores.

It's not worth shipping as mined, so the industry is building experimental plants near the mines to find a way to concentrate the iron ore in taconite.

It's too early to say much, but the specialists seem agreed that getting iron ore from taconite means huge investments in plant, manpower, water and power.

One expert said using taconite would add $5 a year to the cost of living for every family. Foreign ores are the alternative.

The two sources most talked about are Labrador and Brazil. Both have enough iron ore of good grade to keep America's steel plants going many decades.

But in both countries the ore is more than 300 miles from the sea, in a wilderness. Industry would have to start from scratch at huge cost.

Lake Geneva has an area of 223 square miles.

Mt. Kilimanjaro, 19,317-foot peak in Tanganyika is the highest mountain in Africa.

PILES

Don't Suffer Another Minute

Some call them simple piles or external hemorrhoids. I call them sore, burning, itching, red, raw, and painful. I tried the two-way SAN-CURA plan and found quick, prolonged relief. It's wonderful! First bathe the affected area with gentle, cleansing SAN-CURA Soap. Then apply healing, antiseptic SAN-CURA Ointment. Man, oh man, what relief! Pain is eased, itching subsides, swelling is reduced. The two-way SAN-CURA plan—soap and ointment—has been easing pile pain for 45 years. Ask any druggist. Used successfully by thousands.

A New Hospital Policy Sweeps Pennsylvania

Entire Families Are Protected for Sickness, Accidents and Childbirth

Cash for Hospital Room, Surgeon Fees, Medicine, X-rays, etc.

Information Free

If you live in Gettysburg or surrounding territory your family can now be assured of cash if any member should go to the hospital on account of sickness, accident or childbirth. Take advantage of this new low cost hospital policy—complete and free information is yours for the asking. Just send your name and address on the coupon below. No obligation.

Cost Is Small Only a Few Cents a Day

The members of your immediate family can be protected under a single contract on which you make only one small payment each month. Only a few cents a day for the average family.

Hospital Room and Board Paid

This United Hospital policy is one of the most liberal ever devised and pays: (1) Cash for room and meals in hospital for any member of the family; (2) Cash to help pay the fees for the doctor or surgeon; (3) Cash for various hospital extra charges, such as operating room fee, medicines, X-rays, anesthetic, ambulance service, etc.

Pays Whether Disability Occurs at Home or at Work

This new policy is backed by the old reliable United Insurance Company, which has already paid more than $11,000,000.00 in claims to people just like you. The company is rated "A" plus Excellent in Dunne's Insurance Report. Remember, you get cash for hospital expenses whether the disability occurs at home or at work.

Choose Your Own Hospital and Your Own Doctor

This policy does not limit you to any certain hospital or any certain doctor. The money is paid direct to you. So you can pick your own hospital and your own doctor. Your contract identifies you at any hospital. This policy provides other benefits too and anyone interested will get full and complete information free by mailing the coupon below. There is no obligation. Act now! Tomorrow may be too late.

EXPERTS CAN BE WRONG ON PREDICTIONS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 12 (AP)—Economic experts don't always agree, and they're not always right. The same goes for government officials. Right now prices on the commodity exchanges—where things like wheat, corn and lard are traded—have taken a dive. And some of the experts have been busy for a week trying to explain why.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said prices were too high anyway and had to come down. Maybe he's right. But why right now? What started it?

And Tuesday Bernard M. Baruch, many times an adviser to Presidents, took a gander at the commodity markets and said: The break in prices is a good thing and does not forecast a business depression.

One Wrong Guess

Now take what happened right after World War II, when John W. Snyder, now Secretary of the Treasury, was reconversion director. He took a look at the future. It was a dim view. He got gloomy. That was in 1945, in the fall. He estimated that by the spring of 1946 maybe 8,000,000 people would be unemployed. It was pretty chilling when he said it.

"He was wrong," thought. People piled into jobs and in this past year employment in this country reached a record.

And back in October, 1946, the American Federation of Labor's "monthly survey" gazed into a crystal ball and figured: The rise in living costs was over and by early 1947 the prices you paid for things in stores might come down.

The only trouble was: Prices from that point on shot up through the roof.

Recalls '29 Crash

On Monday, October 21, 1929 stocks slumped. The New York Times reported: "Amid scenes of wild confusion and drastically lower prices, the stock market continued yesterday to pay the piper for its long dance of advancing and inflated prices."

That night Professor Irving Fisher, head of Yale's department of economics, looked at the situation and calmly said: The market break was a "shaking out of the lunatic fringe that attempts to speculate on margin." He predicted the market within the next few weeks would start climbing again.

And government officials in Washington said there was no evidence of a serious business or financial situation which could be blamed for the break. The next day stocks rallied. Charles N. Mitchell, chairman of the National City bank, came home from Europe. He was pretty calm, too. He said "The public is suffering from 'brokers' loquacity.' The situation is one which will correct itself."

Babson Was Right

But Roger Babson, also an economist, took a different view. He predicted a big break in the market, with worse to come. The next day was Wednesday, October 23. The Lauds Vandenberg For Services To U.S.

Greensburg, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg is "the statesman who best applies to work problems the concepts of Lincoln," says Harold Stassen, avowed candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

In a speech before a Republican Lincoln Day dinner last night, the former Minnesota governor said Vandenberg's "insistent search for peace with justice has had a great impact on our nation's foreign policy."

Paying tribute to Vandenberg for his work in reshaping the Marshall plan, Stassen said: "In the face of shortsighted opposition within our own party, he has retained his poise and balance. He merits and needs support from the rank and file within our Republican party for his leadership. He will receive it."

New York Times reported:

"Frightened by the declining stock prices during the last month and a half, thousands of stockholders dumped their shares on the market in such an avalanche of selling as to bring on one of the wildest declines in history."

And in Washington that night Professor Fisher again had a few words to say. He said the smash in the market would be followed by recovery. The next day, Thursday, October 24, was the blackest in financial history.

SEEK TO AVERT PTC STRIKE

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Mayor Bernard Samuel scheduled another meeting with union and company officials today in the hope of averting the threatened strike of 11,000 transit workers Sunday at midnight.

The mayor met with representatives of the CIO-Transport Workers union and the Philadelphia Transportation company for nearly two hours yesterday without signs of any appreciable progress being made. It was his first such meeting since the strike, originally set for Tuesday midnight, was postponed.

The PTC, which serves an estimated 3,000,000 riders daily in the nation's third largest city, has offered the workers a 10-cent hourly wage boost. The union asks 40 cents an hour.

Meanwhile, 690 clerical workers of the company trooped back to their jobs today after being idle for a day on what they described as sick leave. They are members of the AFL Teamsters union and voted that negotiations for a new contract should continue until March 1, regardless of what action the Transport Workers union eventually takes.

PLAN FLOOD MEASURES

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Protective measures against possible spring floods will be mapped at a meeting

SLEDDERS KILLED
Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Sledding accidents cost the lives of two four-year-old boys in the Philadelphia area. John Timney, Philadelphia, was killed yesterday when his sled skidded into a truck near his home and Richard Blevins, Jr., Norwood, was struck by a milk truck, police reported.

here Feb. 17 of Gov. James H. Duff's emergency disaster committee. "Present weather conditions have caused a potentiality for floods and the Commonwealth must be prepared for any eventuality," M. F. Draemel, secretary of forests and waters and committee chairman, said yesterday in announcing the meeting.
